Police Probing Two Blazes, Seven Firemen Hospitalized

FIREMEN CHECK SUSPECTED BLAZE—A Mill Street house, once known as the stately Preston Mansion, was swept by flame on upper floors Tuesday in a fire believed to have been set, and which resulted in injury involving seven firemen. (Freeman photo)

Seven firemen who fought one of two Tuesday fires, now under police probe, were hospitalized.

Some seven minutes after a blaze, believed to have been deliberately set, was discovered in the former Preston mansion at 24 Mill Street, now vacant, another, also said to have been set, was reported at the former West Shore railroad station, Railroad Avenue. The latter was one of several at that vacant building in the past several months.

False Report of Occupancy

An alarm at 5:43 p. m. for the Mill Street fire was sounded from Box 2131, Hasbrouck Avenue and Mill Street. The call for the railroad station fire came at 5:50 p. m. Some of the men and equipment at the Mill Street fire were dispatched by radio to the station.

A false report that someone was in the Mill Street building, was said to be the main cause of injuries suffered by firemen.

Injured at the Mill Street fire and still under treatment at the Benedictine Hospital were:

Capt. Harry L. Sills, who was injured in a fall and suffered smoke inhalation. Extent of his injuries was still undetermined today. He is of Central Station.

Firemen Donald Williams and Leo Landerway Jr., both of Central Station, and Volunteer John Hammsersley, of Rapid Hose Company, who suffered smoke inhalation.

Treated at the Benedictine for smoke inhalation and discharged were: Firemen William Hornbeck and Floyd Finch, of Central Station, and Volunteer John Rhinehardt, of Rapid Hose Company.

Spreads to Roof Area

Firemen said the blaze in the former Mill Street mansion, a four-story brick structure on a hill between Mill Street and East Strand, spread to a roof area, cupola, and over most of the third floor. It burned through flooring and involved second floor areas.

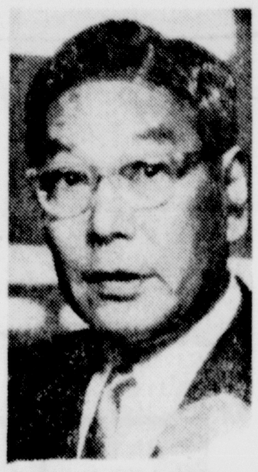

Present owner of the Mill Street property is the Alexander A. Harrison Estate, Box 219, Route 2, Kingston.

The blaze at the railroad station was believed to have been set in an area under the former waiting room floor It damaged flooring and timbers. Joseph P. Day, of Dey Street, New York, is listed as the present owner.

A headquarters report on the Mill Street fire, said the second and third floors of the vacant house were involved in flame when firemen arrived. A search of the interior began when Capt. Sills was told that "there was a man upstairs.' No one was found inside.

Units from Central Station, the Wicks, Rapid and Cordts companies, answered the alarm.

Freeman Is Told Today By Javits

$5,683,613 Total For Renewal Fund

Kingston has been granted an additional reserve sum of $2,442,773 for its uptown urban renewal project by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Senator Jacob K. Javits, announced today in a telegram to The Freeman.

It raises to $5,683,613 the grant available to the city for the uptown project.

Fulfillment of Request

Eric Hemphill, local urban renewal director, who awaits a letter of confirmation of the new sum reserved, which usually arrives with a day or two after the Washington announcement, said it was a fullfillment of a request after the scope of the uptown project was increased.

The original capital grant reservation made in 1962, came at the time of the submission of the survey and planning application covering the uptown project in the amount of $3,240,840.

As a result of a survey conducted by Raymond & May Associates, city planning consultants, the project plan was amended Jan. 7, 1964, increasing the boundaries and the scope of renewal in the uptown area, and this required further federal funds.

A request for such funds was submitted to the HHFA in the form of a revised survey and planning application. The report through the office of Senator Javits confirms the availability of the new sum to bring the total to $5,683,613, which was the full amount requested.

Dora Still Many Miles Out at Sea

Both St. Augustine, Jacksonville Hit

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora, still a hundred miles offshore, sent 76-mile-an-hour winds thundering through the ancient streets of St. Augustine today and began lashing at the "charmed city" of Jacksonville.

Whipping the Atlantic Ocean with 115-mile-an-hour fury, the giant storm, which had indirectly taken three lives, thrashed slowly toward the northeast Florida coast at eight miles an hour.

Phone Service Kayoed

First advance gusts of hurricane force to reach shore knocked out telephone service to Marineland, a tourist spot 20 miles south of her noted for its collection of living sea creatures.

By 10 a.m. (EST), gusts of 76 miles an hour were ripping into St. Augustine and waves were beginning to break over the seawall into Bayfront Parkway, a main tourist thoroughfare in the nation's oldest city.

Never Full Impact

At the same time, Jacksonville was feeling the first blows of wind and sea. The city of 250,000 never has taken the full impact of a big hurricane.

Tide and wind arrived at Jacksonville at the same time. Gusts of 63 miles an hour snapped a few power lines. Waves began to crash over the seawall at Jacksonville Beach.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., to Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings with a hurricane watch were extended northward to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

EAL Cancels Flights

Eastern Air Lines canceled its flight today from Philadelphia to Jacksonville, Daytona Beach and Melbourne, Fla. The flight was terminated at Washington.

Thirty miles north of St. Augustine, the city of Jacksonville braced for what could be the first head-on blow by a hurricane in its history. Highest wind ever recorded in this city of 250,000 was 86 miles an hour in gusts in 1944.

A five-foot tide topped by crashing waves rolled into the beach along the oceanside of a narrow peninsula just across Matanzas Bay from St. Augustine.

Another hurricane, Ethel, was

Most Historic Ever, Reuther Says of Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached a dramatic last-minute agreement today on a precedent-setting contract which includes pensions of up to $400 a month and improved health benefits.

Three-Year Pact

The three-year contract, reached a scant 55 minutes before a scheduled 10 a.m. (EST) nationwide strike by Chrysler's 74,000 UAW members, was termed by union President Walter Reuther as "the most historic agreement in the history of the American labor movement with respect to pensions and security for workers."

The contract agreement, announced jointly by Reuther and Chrysler Corp. Vice President John Leary, is expected to set the pattern for the union's negotiations with General Motors, Ford and American Motors.

Spokesmen for Ford, GM and AMC had no immediate comment on the UAW-Chrysler pact which calls for an over-all economic package averaging 54 cents an hour for each worker during the three-year life of the agreement.

Reuther was not specific on how the new contract would affect straight wages. He indicated the annual improvement factor would remain the same — an increase of 2½ per cent or 6 cents hourly, whichever is greater — with a possible increase in the third year of the contract.

Other Provisions

Other provisions included an increase in retirement pension benefits, two additional holidays, increased vacations, and improved hospital and medical benefits for workers and their families.

On the issue of improved working conditions — which the UAW had described as one of its priority demands — the contract increases the daily relief time for each worker from 24 minutes to 36 minutes.

The agreement ended the possibility of major walkouts at Chrysler's 40 plants in 12 states, which would have crippled production on new 1965 models.

Driver Is Cited, 6 Cars Damaged In Three Mishaps

Six automobiles were damaged in three separate traffic accidents investigated Tuesday afternoon by Kingston State Police. No one was injured, but one driver was cited for a vehicle and traffic violation.

Trooper John Kohland reported Joseph Rider, 62, of Grahamsville, was driving a car out of Mountain Road, Town of Ulster, at 1:36 p. m. when the vehicle was in collision with another operated by Viena Bernard, 64, of Eddyville, who was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

The summons is returnable Sept. 14 before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge.

The mishap occurred on Route 213 at Eddyville.

At 4:15 p. m., cars driven by Mary Martins, 53, of Mahay, N. J., and Margaret Schuler, 57, of West Hurley, collided on Route 28, Town of Hurley. The vehicles were traveling in opposite directions at the time they collided on a curve, according to Trooper Robert Houghtaling.

Two cars were involved in a minor mishap near Davenport fruit stand, Town of Hurley, at 4:45 p.m. yesterday. Trooper Houghtaling reported Edward Eisenstein, 64, of 260 Riverside Drive New York City, had his car near another vehicle owned by Harriett Anthony, 34, of Broad Street, West Hurley, when the latter vehicle rolled and hit the Eisenstein vehicle. No injuries were reported.

More for Health Dep't Requested By Home Builders

The Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley today urged the Ulster County Board of Supervisors to provide for an operating budget increase for the Ulster County Department of Health. The request for the budget increase was made in a letter from Sam Hankin, president of the Home Builders, to the Budget Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

In his letter, President Hankin cited as the reason for his request the great growth taking place in Ulster County. He stated that this great growth has caused a most substantial increase in the work load of the County Health Department. He stated that a budget increase was vital to the public as well as the members of the Home Builders Association.

Hankin noted that the Home Builders Association membership is made up of leading dealers, building supply dealers, real estate firms and representatives of financial institutions and utilities of the area. In calling for a budget increase for the Health Department, he stated that the asked-for budget increase was necessary for the Health Department to carry out its duties in a manner that would continue to be both thorough and to keep pace with the County's growth.

Builders submit copies of proposed development plans to the Health Department for approval prior to the start of construction. The Board of Health also inspects sanitary facilities being installed during construction and has jurisdiction over the scope and location of all sanitary installations.

Cuban Ties Are Ended By Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The last Cuban embassy in South America gets closing orders today.

Uruguay's nine-man governing council voted Tuesday night to break relations with Fidel Castro's government in accordance with the resolution of the Organization of American States.

6-3 Ballot

The council's vote was six in favor and three abstentions.

Mexico and Canada will be the only countries in the Western Hemisphere maintaining relations with Cuba. Canada is not a member of the OAS.

The Uruguayan announcement said diplomatic relations were ended "as of this date."

It said direct or indirect commercial exchanges also were ended, "with the exception of foodstuffs, medicine and medical equipment which might be sent to Cuba for humanitarian reasons."

Police reinforcements were sent to foreign embassies and key public service areas to prevent damage by demonstrators. Rain ended a pro-Cuban demonstration in downtown Montevideo.

No Cuban Comment

Aldo Rodriguez, charge d'affaires at the Cuban Embassy, declined comment on the government's decision.

The OAS resolution to isolate Cuba was requested by Venezuela, which accused Castro's regime of using terrorism and sabotage in an attempt to over-

Barry Vows to Curtail 'Wild Spending Spree'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a determined drive to pick up the Western states he sees as his presidential base, promises that if elected he will halt what he calls the "wild spending spree" by the Democrats.

"What will your choice be?" Goldwater asked a roaring crowd in Los Angeles' three-tiered baseball stadium. "More power for Washington? Less power for your home state and your town? More money for wasteful government? Less money for productive, individual uses?

Attracts Largest Crowd

"No. Our choice is progress through freedom!"

Goldwater had his largest crowd Tuesday night — the scoreboard said 53,120 were in the ball park that can seat 56,000 — and he got a rousing welcome, so rousing he couldn't speak until the message was flashed in big lights in leftfield: "Let's hear Barry."

This is friendly country for a Republican presidential candidate.

In 1960 Richard M. Nixon carried California, Oregon and Washington. Goldwater hopes to win them, too.

His schedule today takes in all three states, with stops in Sacramento, Calif., and Klamath Falls, Ore., before spending the night in Seattle, Wash.

California Big Prize

California is the big prize.

It has 40 big electoral votes, and it has special appeal for Goldwater. It was here, in the presidential primaries, that he knocked off Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and took a major step toward winning the GOP nomination.

Goldwater's speech, in the stadium where the Dodgers and Angels play their home games, was billed as his California kickoff, and his fans paid $1 apiece to sit in on a show that ran for almost three hours.

Bands played. Movie and television personalities were introduced. Goldwater rode all the way around the stadium in his convertible, while the crowd applauded, before going to the speaker's platform over second base. Hundreds of yellow and gold balloons were released.

The cheers rolled in when Goldwater said:

"I will, as one of my first actions in the White House, ask the Congress to enact a regular

Fire Threatens Ellenville Club, Razes 1 Building

Flames and burning embers from a fire that destroyed a one-story frame building near the Jockey Country Club on Briggs Highway about 4½ miles west of Ellenville, Tuesday afternoon, at times threatened the main hotel, according to fire officials.

Chief William McCombes said Ellenville volunteer firefighters, dispatched to the country club at 5 p. m., fought the blaze for about an hour.

Use Swimming Pool

Water was pumped from a nearby swimming pool to replenish the supply in the fire pumpers.

Chief McCombes reported the frame building, used as a pump house and storage for paint and other materials, was "all afire" when the first unit of firemen arrived. The roof had caved in and burning embers were carried to the roof of the main building, but firemen quickly extinguished the spot fires.

The siding of the kitchen ignited and during the height of the fire a water tank in the storage building exploded due to expansion by steam.

Firemen Felled

Volunteer Peter Williams suffered smoke poisoning. He was treated at the scene.

At 10:30 p. m. firemen returned to the club property to extinguish smoldering debris. The cause of the fire was not determined and there was no dollar value of damage.

One-Two Punch From Storms Is New for Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — It's an unusual hurricane season for Florida this year.

Florida has never had two hurricanes hit as close together as Cleo and Dora, at least as far back as Weather Bureau records go.

Cleo smashed into Florida Aug. 28 and Dora hit 10 days later.

The nearest double hurricane blow on record was in 1947 when one struck on Sept. 18 and another Oct. 12.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — While thousands were fleeing Hurricane Dora, three Denver College students drove nonstop for 24 hours from New York just to see the storm.

They obtained a room in the otherwise empty 30-year-old St. Augustine Beach Hotel.

"We're determined to sit out the storm," said Maxwell MacMaster, 22, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

With him were Ed Jennings, 22, of Plainfield, Ill., and Mark Muehler, 22, of Mokena, Ill.

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Twenty men charged with minor crimes were released from jail Tuesday as Dora approached. Fifteen others charged with more serious crimes were transferred to a mainland jail.

Black Alters Plea, Will Be Sentenced Sept. 11th

Charles Black, also known as Charles Brayton, indicted for first degree murder of Miss Mildred Steger at her apartment, 11 Cottage Row, on June 28, 1959, entered a plea of guilty to second degree manslaughter before Judge Francis X. Tucker in County Court this morning.

Imposition of sentence was postponed until Friday at 10 a. m. in order to have a probation report before the court prior to imposition of sentence.

The maximum sentence which may be imposed is 15 years.

Black, formerly known as Brayton, was charged with shooting to death Miss Steger with a slug from a shotgun. At the time the shooting was believed to have been accidental. They had been target shooting at Devil's Lake that day, according to a statement given by Black after the shooting, which he claimed had been accidental.

The shooting took place during the early evening of June 28, 1959, but was not reported to police until the next day. Black was then arrested on a second degree murder charge after he had been questioned by police. Later he gave a statement at headquarters. This statement was rejected as evidence by Judge Tucker last week after a three day hearing on the proposition as to whether Black has waived his right to counsel prior to the taking of the statement.

The plea of guilty to second degree manslaughter came after District Attorney David W. Corwin had moved the case to trial this morning.

Breakfast Launches '65 $223,000 Chest Drive

The 1965 Ulster County Community Chest Campaign was kicked off officially this morning with a breakfast meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Chest President William R. Stall and campaign chairman Joseph J. Benjamin explained organization and the financial requirements of the 12 Chest agencies to area business and industrial leaders.

Attending the kickoff were Chester A. Baltz Jr., C. A. Baltz & Sons; H. I. Etchells, Hercules Powder Co.; Wilber Peters, Central Hudson Gas & Electric; William Rylance, William E. Rylance & Sons; George Rusk, Kingston Trust; J. Paul Sturtevant, Ferroxcube Corp. of America; William R. Stall, Savings & Loan of Kingston; Richard J. Whalen and Charles Broadhead, IBM; Harry Kapreilian, Charles Ramsey Corp.; Orville Norman, Nationwide Insurance Co.; Walter Caunitz, Caunitz Real Estate.

It was announced to those assembled that the 1965 Chest Campaign would not include the traditional door to door campaign. Every effort will be made to reach persons at their place of employment, said Benjamin.

"An employe campaign at their place of work is one of the most effective and efficient methods to raise funds. In an effort to lessen campaign costs and raise the sums essential to the support of the 12 Chest agencies greater emphasis is being put into employe solicitation," Benjamin concluded.

The goal for the 1965 Ulster County Community Chest Campaign is $223,000.

Keating Presses Run Against RFK, 'The Newcomer'

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating pushed his campaign for re-election across northern New York today while flailing away at Democrat Robert F. Kennedy's status as a relative newcomer to the state.

The 64 - year - old senator's agenda today included appearances in Ogdensburg and Watertown prior to a flight to New York City and a hand-shaking tour at Roosevelt Raceway in Old Westbury.

Kennedy's entrance into the Senate race represents a "cynical threat to the principle of representative government," Keating told a luncheon audience at Plattsburgh Tuesday.

Keating was greeted by small but enthusiastic crowds as he toured Massena in the rain last night.

About 75 persons were at Massena's airport when Keating arrived during a rain storm. He canceled plans to visit local businesses because of the hour and the weather, but conducted a vigorous handshaking tour downtown. Later, appearing on a television broadcast, he reviwed his 18-year record as a representative and senator.

In his Plattsburgh talk, Keating did not name Kennedy. But he was obviously referring to the fact that Kennedy was not a New York State resident when he began his bid for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

About 250 persons attended the luncheon after 300 others greeted him at the Plattsburgh Airport.

"Never in any political campaign," Keating told the diners, "have I felt so strongly that victory was essential not for me as an individual, but for the people of our great state."

Keating also made stops at Glens Falls and Malone.

A Guide to Tell How Middle Age Comes Upon One

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs of middle age:

You're busier fighting old bad habits than acquiring new ones.

If anyone asks is it hot enough for you, you have an almost irresistible urge to grab him by the lapels and tell him about the heat wave back in 1935.

Teen-agers look a lot bigger than they did when you were one.

Every year you admire your own parents more as you realize how much smarter they were about raising children than you are.

You wouldn't buy a ticket to the moon if they were selling at three for a quarter.

Getting to work on time isn't much trouble anymore because you rather like to get up earlier in the morning.

The bright new young comedians on television don't seeem very funny — half the time you don't understand what they are joking about.

Instead of thinking of old age as beginning around 60, you push its onset up to 70 or 75.

There don't seem to be as many bluebirds around as there were years ago.

Next year, you decide, you'll set out fewer tomato plants in the garden — and plant a shorter row of string beans.

At cocktail parties you ration yourself to two martinis, and give up betting strangers that you can beat them at Indian hand wrestling.

Being caught in a sudden rain makes you grumpy the rest of the day.

You can think of many more reasons for staying home than going on a picnic.

Everybody on the highway drives like an idiot except you.

When you seee two young people in love you thank heaven you didn't act that silly when you were that age.

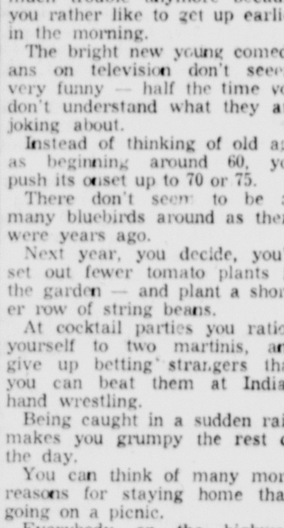

A letter from an old friend makes you feel sentimental — after you have opened it and found he isn't trying to borrow money — and you save it for days and read it over and over.

You got along fine with your old neighbors, but when they move away you make up your mind to put up a picket fence. Never can tell what the new neighbors will be like.

Everybody seems so neurotic and full of strange prejudices nowadays. You're glad you're not that way at all.

That's middle age. At least these are ways to tell it — in the other fellow.

Why We Say--

Hunters today might erect a canopy over their beds to protect themselves from insects and this is exactly how the word started. The canopy began with boatmen in the Nile region of Egypt who erected coverings over their beds to protect themselves from "kanopa" or gnats in the area.

More Schools Integrated In Former Trouble Spots

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More public schools begin integrated classes today, including former trouble spots such as Prince Edward County, Va., Albany, Ga., and Gadsden, Ala.

Fourteen Negroes and 59 white pupils were enrolled at Tuskegee Ala. High School Monday. There was no trouble like that which forced the school to close seven months ago.

Prince Edward County bows to federal court orders and opens the doors to public school rooms for the first time since 1958-59.

But only seven white pupils are expected to attend the public schools with 1,600 Negroes. The other white pupils will continue to attend private schools set up when the county closed the schools to escape court-ordered desegregation.

The faculty in Prince Edward County also will be integrated, with 9 white teachers and 59 Negro teachers.

School authorities at Albany, Ga., planned to desegregate the 1st, 2nd and 12th grades under federal court orders.

Hundreds of demonstrators have been arrested in racial clashes in Albany during the past two years, but school officials expect no trouble.

Negroes also will attend white schools at Gadsden, Ala., for the first time. Although 38 Negro pupils applied for transfer to the white schools, it was not known immediately how many would be accepted.

Gadsden, a northeast Alabama city of more than 58,000, has been the scene of racial tension in the past. However, no difficulties have arisen recently.

Segregation barriers also will fall at Montegromery, Ala., as eight Negro pupils enter previously white schools in the first capitol of the Confederacy. Six will go to high schools and two to Harrison Elementary School where an effort was first made 10 years ago to allow Negroes to enter. This year, the integration is under federal court order.

Schools also are being integrated at Mount Sterling, Ky., where 227 pupils, displaced by the burning of a Negro school, enter classes.

Besides the 227 Negro pupils entering city schools at Mount Sterling, 111 other Negro pupils enter county schools

Three fires, including the one at the school, have broken out in the Negro section of Mount Sterling since Negro parents threatened a suit and a school boycott in support of demands for desegregation.

Algorism Use With Computers Helps Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Solving the traveling salesman problem or designing comfortable brassieres — these and a lot of other sticklers can be handled quickly by a new kind of "Algorism."

An algorism is a way of calculating by means of nine figures and zero. A professsor at the Krannert Graduate School of Industrial Administration, Purdue University, has developed a new algorism to be used in conjunction with modern computers. He says the technique lets businessmen select almost instantly the best solution from up to billions of possible combinations.

Study Best Route

With a traveling salesman, one of management's problems is to decide on the best route a salesman should take to cover far-flung stops most efficiently and most economically. The business conditions under which such trips are made change often. The aim remains the same — make the most profit for his company.

Dr. Stanley J. Reiter, a Purdue research scientist, calls his computer-based program discrete — distinct — optimizing. It selects in minutes the best of many solutions, making the company management happy, and presumably the salesman, too.

Some garment makers also are using computers to come up with the most comfortable bras. In effect, the machine does the fitting from the mass of possible variations, both of the human body and the outer garments, fed into it.

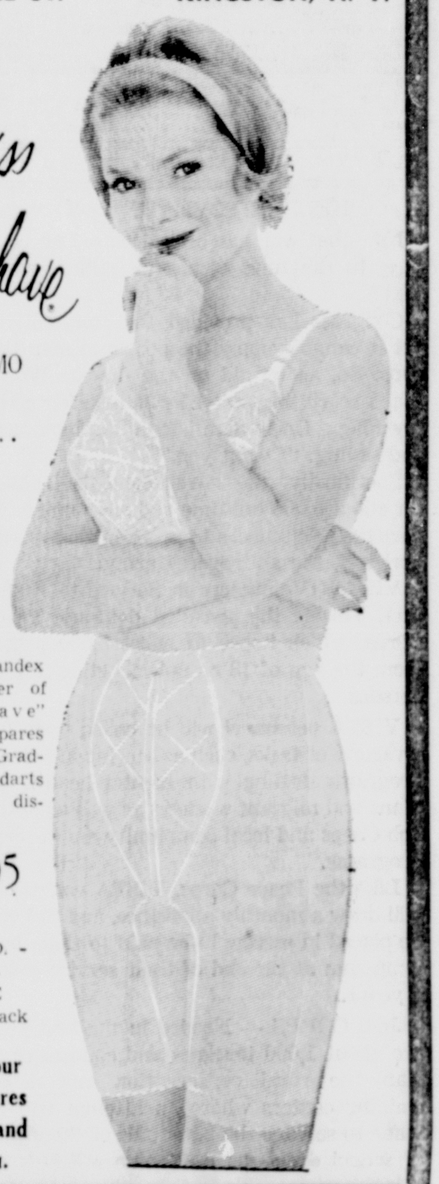

The Krannert system, called quantitative management research, also is applied to scheduling the best method of operating a large job shop, where say five machines and five operations could involve as many as 25 billion sequences in handling a day's or a weeek's work.

Top management uses many hours of skull practice in setting up a research and development budget or a capital expenditure program. What it wants to know, if possible, is whether the millions of dollars involved will pay off.

Reiter says that his system by using forecasts of costs, market demand, plant site conditions for transportation and labor, and age and population trends in accessible markets, can give management a quick answer on the most likely result of any plan, and the most profitable of many choices.

Change From 1960 Campaign

New Breed of Speechwriters For Johnson and Goldwater

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new breed of speechwriters at work.

Just read the speeches by President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

They're not like those in 1960 by Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Johnson has become a one-sentence-to-a-paragraph man, with one idea to a sentence.

After each sentence he looks around til the audience digests it.

Take his Labor Day speech in Detroit:

"This is a great day in an historic place.

"Here, and today, we begin to move toward new years of achievement for America.

"Sixteen years ago an American president came here and promised that America would 'enter a new period of hope.'

"You gave him support and he gave you that hope."

Goldwater goes for short sentences, too, but often bunches them in one paragraph.

He tries to give them a roll, a grandeur, with high-sounding abstract words like peace, freedom, liberty.

Here are some from his campaign opener Sept. 3:

"We mean something far different from the opposition party. We mean:

"Peace through preparedness.

"Peace through freedom.

"Purpose through constitutional order.

"These are the themes we shall make resound across this great land of ours, and across an anxious, troubled and listening world."

Kennedy relied on fairly short sentences, but not as terse as Johnson's, and usually packaged them in a paragraph.

Here's Kennedy making a Labor Day speech in Detroit in the 1960 campaign:

"I am taking my case to the American people in the next two months because I believe that the American people should decide which direction this country is going to go. The issue is before you and I am confident that in November you will make a choice for progress, not for standing still."

Kennedy's instinct for clarity and brevity was so good he made up that part of his speech after his prepared speech had been released to the press.

The prepared one wasn't that simple, that quick:

"I am taking my case to the American people because that is where it belongs — because that is where there will be no threat of veto or parliamentary obstruction — and because that is where we can always place our confidence."

Because Nixon lacked Kennedy's sense of composition, he didn't get across as easily as Kennedy, and maybe that's one of the things that hurt him.

His sentences were often too stretched, as one of his first 1960 speeches shows:

"I call upon all the people here, whether you are Republicans or Democrats or independdents, to hear what I have to say, to hear me on the issues, and then to make your decision — not on the basis of the party label, even though you happen to be a member of my party — but on the basis of whether you think what I stand for is best for America."

The trouble with Johnson's bang-bang-bang is that he may make people hard of hearing.

And Goldwater may put them to sleep if he keeps playing that peace-liberty-freedom record over and over, as he says he will.

Madeleine Carroll Quits

BOSTON (AP) — Madeleine Carroll, the movie actress who left Hollywood for Europe 14 years ago, has confirmed reports that she quit as costar of "Beekman Place," a comedy being prepared for Broadway.

In a telephone interview, Miss Carroll told the New York Times she had "a mutual disagreement" with the management.

Samuel Taylor, one of the show's producers, said revisions in Miss Carroll's part had altered it "in such a way that she did not feel she could continue." She will be replaced by Leora Dana.

HELP IN POVERTY WAR

Now that war has been declared on poverty, to the tune of $947.5 million, what next?

Congress has provided the ammunition, but it cannot supply the people to man the guns. So, as he did on the famous World War I recruiting poster by James Montgomery Flagg, Uncle Sam is pointing his finger and saying: "I want you."

Specifically, the government is looking for about 6,000 full-time and any number of part-time volunteers to serve in three categories of the antipoverty army:

VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America). This is the so-called domestic Peace Corps, which hopes to enlist 5,000 people from the age of 18 on up, including retired persons.

VISTA personnel will be called upon for a variety of tasks, such as serving in federal programs dealing with mental health. Indians and migrant workers as well as in the Job Corps and local community antipoverty programs.

Like the Peace Corps, VISTA volunteers will draw a monthly allowance, and $50 will be placed in escrow to be paid to them in a lump sum at the end of their service ($600 a year).

JOB CORPS — Needed in the first year are about 1,000 teachers and counselors to staff the rural conservation and urban training centers where an attempt will be made to salvage the potentials of thousands of school dropouts. Corpsmen will be paid salaries comparable to those they would receive as teachers elsewhere.

COMMUNITY ACTION PROGRAMS — Part-time volunteers of all ages willing to serve without pay are wanted for a variety of joint federal-local antipoverty offensives. Such help might take the form of tutoring adult education classes or managing day-care centers for children while their mothers take lessons in health or homemaking or learn a work skill.

Complete information about any of these services can be had by writing to the Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D.C.

STEEL BEGINS CENTURY TWO

One hundred years ago this month, in Wyandotte, Mich., an event occurred which was to influence the nation's future as much as the bloody duel then being waged far away between the Army of the Potomac and the Army of Northern Virginia.

The first commercial heat of steel to be made in the United States by the new Bessemer process was produced in a small experimental plant of the Kelly Pneumatic Process Co. on Sept. 14, 1864.

Only eight years before in England, Henry Bessemer (later knighted) had announced his inexpensive method for converting iron into steel by sending a blast of air through molten pig iron to remove impurities. The cheap and abundant metal sinews now available were to undergird the second industrial revolution that took place in the last half of the century.

In 1964, steel production in the United States is expected to reach a record high of around 120 million tons. More than 275 companies in over 300 communities are producing steel in more than 10,000 sizes, shapes and varieties.

Steel making has greatly changed since the days of Sir Henry. New methods, such as the oxygen process, continuous casting, vacuum degassing and completely computer-controlled plants are making possible more abundant steel of higher quality and greater versatility.

During the next few months, the steel industry will appropriately commemorate its first hundred years of commercial production by looking to the future — to Century Two of steel — and the vital role it will undoubtedly continue to play in our lives.

SCOOTERS UNDERFOOT

The motor scooter has been flowering profusely on the streets and highways. Many a motorist, and with good reason, considers it less an ornament than a weed.

One trouble is that the motor scooter appeals to the young, a species not by nature prudent or sedate. The combination of ebullient youth and a two-wheeler built for one (but often carrying two) results in maneuvers that raise both hackles and eyebrows among motorists, and sometimes lead them to the brink of apoplexy.

The motor scooter, like any other vehicle that ventures into traffic, is subject to the laws and rules governing traffic. Scooter riders should bear this in mind — and the police should crack down on them when they don't.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

IS IT NECESSARY TO PEDDLE JUNK?

The publicity department of the Coward-McCann Publishing Company has sent me some "carefully selected excerpts" from a book about America, "The Wounded Land," by Hans Habe, a European journalist and novelist. The sales pitch that comes with the excerpts is terrific. "There aren't many necessary books," says John J. Geoghegan, the Coward-McCann editor-in-chief, "but this, surely, is one. From this book comes the chill recognition that extremism—and the hatred it engenders—created not only the conditions for the President's death, but that the fatal bullet fired in Dallas was to be only the first shot in the guerilla warfare of the 'haters.'" Mr. Geoghegan continues by urging me "to read these few but pertinent excerpts from 'The Wounded Land.' It is the current Number One best-seller in West Germany and Switzerland."

Unable to resist such a sales pitch, and also curious to know what makes a best-seller about America in Western Europe, I took Mr. Geoghegan's promptings seriously. What I have to report is that Mr. Habe, on the basis of a foretaste of his reporting on America, is just about as necessary to an understanding of what makes this country tick as an interview with a parrot. Still, his book could be extremely important as a symptom of West European reaction to America, which seems to this columnist to be almost hopelessly benighted.

To begin with, Mr. Habe, almost ten months after the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, is still convinced that the murder was the result of a "disruptive revolutionary movement of the extreme right which rejects all the worthiest notions of humanity." This is the sort of thing that was being said before Jack Ruby shot the presumptive murderer of John F. Kennedy, a psychotic lone wolf who, as it turned out, had spent some time in Soviet Russia, married a Russian girl, taken a pot shot at right-winger General Walker, and generally considered himself to be a Marxist and a hater of capitalism. When the first stories of Oswald's actual character and background came through, the wild allegations that the "right wing" had killed Kennedy died away in this country to a whisper. But the West Europeans, apparently, can't believe that a Marxist crackpot was to blame. It just has to be the radical right. One suspects that not even the Warren report will change this view.

Hans Habe, in his wildly accusatory pages finds so "necessary," says "John Fitzgerald Kennedy was murdered because secret and semi-secret societies, unbridled racialists of both colors, the Governors of states like Alabama and the Black Muslims in New York, oil-millionaires in Texas and 'white trash' all over the country could sow the seeds of hatred unimpeded and unchecked, encouraged by the local police, tolerated by the Federal police, used by politicians for their own ends. . . . He was murdered because he did not regard the Texas oil-wells as America's new frontier . . . because, for the first time in her history, the United States is faced with a disruptive revolutionary movement of the extreme right. . . . But at the same time America, understandably ashamed and dangerously tolerant, prefers to keep quiet about this movement, or to cover it up or to gloss it over, and so the White Citizens' Councils and the John Birch Society and the Ku Klux Klan are allowed to preach hatred at all hours of the day and the night."

This sort of reporting, which ignores all the laws of evidence, could be dismissed with a sniff if it were not for the fact that Europeans take it seriously. I suppose it is useless to ask Mr. Habe to prove that Oswald had had any connection or communication with Texas oil millionaires, Governor Wallace, Malcolm X, and Robert Welch of the Birch Society, or that he had even read their works. The man who can say that our "federal police" tolerate secret societies is an ignoramus on the face of it, for the fact is that the U. S. has no "federal police." If Mr. Habe means the FBI, he should be told that J. Edgar Hoover heads a purely investigatory body.

Oh, well. The U. S. will survive Mr. Habe. Whether the West Europe that makes stuff like this a best-seller can survive its own journalists is another question.

Strokes, Head Injuries Can Affect Speech

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Many dramatic stories have been written about aphasia. In these tales usually the victim, after a blow on the head incurred while he is away from home, retains his ability to speak and perform all the acts he customarily performs but has no memory for anything that happened to him before his accident.

Fortunately, such cases are rare but every year in this country nearly half a million persons suffer a stroke, head injury, or brain disease that leaves them with some sort of language difficulty.

The manifestations vary widely but roughly they fall into four groups. The victim may understand what is said to him but be unable to speak. This is very common.

He may be able to speak but be unable to understand anything that is said to him.

Other victims can talk and understand speech but have lost the power to interpret written language and the fourth group can read but are unable to write—even to sign their name.

Because communication is so important in a home, any interference with it can be frustrating to both the victim and his family. The family must, therefore, exercise the utmost patience and understanding. The victim should not be excluded from normal social-contacts but should be understood in any way he can.

Above all, don't treat him as a child and don't discuss his problems in front of him. Treat him as nearly as possible the way you did before the accident.

While it is unwise to fill him with false hopes of a speedy recovery you should show genuine pleasure in any real progress he makes and show that you understand how hard he is trying to communicate with you. It is useless to tell him to relax but you can create a relaxed atmosphere that will help to ease his tension and frustration.

Ask him simple questions that can be answered yes or no such as: "Do you hurt?" "Are you thirsty?" "Do you want to get up?" Some victims swear or utter obscenities without knowing what they are saying. This is a part of their disease and you must learn to accept it without laughing or getting mad.

Let the victim do as much for himself as he can. Even though he can't talk he may be able to make some minor repairs or pursue his hobbies. Don't be afraid to leave him alone at times. This will be good for both of you.

Although in some victims there is a return of function within a few weeks you should be prepared for the possibility that it will take much longer or that the damage is permanent. His progress will depend on the extent and location of the injury, his age and intelligence and most of all on his will to recover.

Changing of the Guard

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — An unpublished reassessment of Communist - Castroist - anti-U.S. leftist capabilities in Latin America is now circulating in Johnson administration policy circles.

Its key points:

1. MOSCOW-ORIENTED, traditional Communist parties of Latin America are for the most part incapable of overthrowing or exercising strong influence in any regime. In general, they have been unsuccessful in acquiring mass followings.

2. THE CASTROIST GROUPS which have come into existence have greater appeal to the growing mass of 'frustrated poverty-stricken urban and rural workers. The promise of quick success through force and terror has proved more attractive than the more deliberate pace Moscow-oriented traditional Communists have adopted.

3. THE POLITICAL ELEMENTS which pose the most serious threat to existing regimes are not those which call themselves Communists or Castroists. They are the leftists-nationalist groups which blame their nation's troubles upon what they believe to be an alliance of U. S. and other foreign capitalists with local landowners, military leaders and poltical adventurers.

Their political programs are strongly leftist and anti-U.S. in ideology and demagogic in method. They attack progressive and traditionalist regimes alike. They accept Communist and Castroist support.

4. THE LATIN-AMERICAN SCENE probably will continue to be marked by civil disturbances, plotting and counterplotting, political warfare and terrorism.

Economic and political problems which are already serious are complicated because "rapid population growth and migration to the cities have created large slums and large numbers of restless, disaffected people."

Some of the leftist-nationalist forces may succeed in acquiring power.

"The Castroists will exploit whatever opportunities are open to them, either within the leftist-nationalist movement or directly among the dissatisfied and frustrated masses," says the analysis.

In some cases, military leaders of a more traditionalist character will seek to head off leftist-nationalist and Castroist groups by establishing military regimes. "The consequence of this may be to drive the moderate revolutionaries into the radical camp."

5. IN A FEW PLACES there are encouraging signs.

"Some countries have genuinely accepted the Alliance for Progress concept and are pushing toward its goals.

"In some countries, groups and and individuals striving for change have joined in the Christian Democratic movement and are acquiring political influence."

The analysis concludes: The presence in the Western Hemisphere of a Communist state "will continue greatly to jeopardize U. S. interests throughout the continent."

Business Men's Reasons For Endorsing Johnson

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Why should it occasion so much surprise when a score or more prominent business men form a group to work for the election of President Johnson in November? Is it assumed that business men always think alike on matters of public policy and that in the past they have unanimously supported the Republican party?

Unquestionably the preponderant number heretofore have been on the Republican side and probably still are. It nevertheless seems to be news when anybody in big business says he prefers to see the present Administration continued. Hence much discussion has ensued among business men themselves as to why there not only are "defectors" but that they seem willing to draw attention publicly to their preference.

All sorts of reasons are advanced in explanation of the phenomenon. For one thing, many business men who feel the economic situation is rosy today don't want to see any change which they think could "rock the boat." Others believe that if business men of prominence like themselves line up with the Administration, a responsibility will be imposed upon the latter to exercise restraint on the excesses in labor-union policy. If, for instance, a big company is on the verge of a strike of major proportions, it might be thought better for the management to become friendly with the Administration, rather than hostile, so that some governmental intercession in their behalf can be achieved.

It is being suggested, too, that with $100 billion to spend every year, the present Administration has many worthwhile contracts to hand out for defense and other public projects in which awards are not always made to the lowest bidder. Some members of Congress have protested against this trend, but it exists nevertheless, and the business man at the head of an enterprise with a capacity to do a diversified business isnt likely to adopt a course in politics that could be considered unfriendly to the Administration in power.

There are, of course, business men who are liberals at heart—of big government has made more of them than there were 25 years ago. They grew up under the New Deal and have come to accept big government as essential to American economic expansion.

Then there are other business men who feel that the emergence necessary the enlargement even of what is known as "big business." Unfortunately for some of these business men, the Department of Justice still thinks the anti-trust laws can be construed arbitrarily to give the government the right to decide not just what is a monopoly but what is "big" or "too big." There is hardly an industry that hasn't a few anti-trust suits pending against its members in the courts or being prepared through the investigations of the Department of Justice. Certainly under all such circumstances, it is considered wise by some business men to play ball a far as possible with the incumbent Administration, especially if it seems likely to continue in office.

The regulatory authority of the Federal government, moreover, is extensive today. The Federal Communications Commission has the power of life or death over radio and television stations. Tariff rates and the regulation of imports are handled by Federal commissions and departments. These matters can make quite a difference on the profit-and-loss side of a business. The penetration of government into business is growing, and many business men want a friend at court whenever they can get one.

Business men, as a rule, prefer not to be active in politics. They have, however, watched the labor-union leaders carry on campaigns for the Democratic candidates and assume that this pays off in favoritism to union labor. So perhaps it is natural for some leaders of industry to conclude that maybe it is time they found a way to make a Democratic administration feel a bit indebted politically to business men as well.

All this can prove largely irrelevant in the matter of total votes. For the top business executives in America constitute a relatively small percentage of the vote in any state.

The important fact to be borne in mind, however, is that business conditions are today good for most businesses, though some large and small companies are experiencing setbacks. If and when the artificial business boom comes to an end in the next year or two, maybe the arguments for change in existing economic policies will gain more support. This may then be reflected in a change of political affiliations and a return to the Republican fold of many of the business men who are today anxious to stay in the good graces of an incumbent Administration.

Because barnacles grow tough limy shells, zoologists long classified them as mollusks, along with clams and oysters. Actually barnacles are crustaceans and related to shrimps and crabs.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

CAIRO, Egypt — It was hot. The cab driver opened the little windows wide to shovel some air over my family. He crossed the cocoa-colored Nile at the El Tahrir Bridge and moved west, passing tiny donkeys laden with produce and fat farmers in striped gowns. It was shimmering hot but it was a good day to see the Pyramids.

The Nile flows north. Dhows with huge sails fought the current slowly, like stately swans. Outside of El Dukki, there were stands of corn and a big billboard asking Egyptians to fly "Aeroflot," for the USSR. The farms became thick and green and, nine miles out of downtown Cairo, the great Sahara desert began.

Guides in flowing white robes and mahogany faces lifted Kathleen aboard a camel. She was frightened. The little face with the china-blue eyes tried bravery for a moment, surrendered, and cracked into tears. Karen was bigger and more confident. She had the same guide Gayle had nine years ago, and the same silly aplomb.

Mother got aboard a camel and, as it rocked off its knees to its feet, she shrieked and the camel went off at a trot, with her hanging onto the beast like a lame-duck Congressman onto his job. We were in the shadows of the great Giza pyramids. There are three of them, the tombs of Cheops, Chephren and Mykerinos.

They were built about 5,000 years ago and they stand as colossal monuments to the greatest vanity of all time. In effect, each pyramid is a cemetery headstone. They are made of 2,300,000 stones, each weighing about two-and-a-half tons. Each pyramid has two rooms deep inside, one for the body of the pharoah, the other for his queen.

The ancient Egyptians believed in a hybrid immortality. Life after death depended upon preserving the body from decay. To prevent decomposition, they mummified the body, anointing it with uguents first, then wrapping it tight in long strips of cloth. They could not believe that the spirit could exist without the body. This led to the further credo that the dead body would need food and drink. So chapels were built near the tomb for mourners, and they brought food, flowers, drink, perfumes, even medicines.

In the chapel, a fake door was built, and the offerings laid before it. The door was called "Ka" and, when the mourners left, the spirit of the dead man came through it and partook of his needs. The Egyptians of 50 centuries ago also believed that the dead body should never be disturbed. That is why it was kept in a sealed vault, away from "Ka."

There was an enormous weakness in these religious beliefs. Only the very rich could afford it. The poor were buried under the desert sands with no stone vault, no "Ka." The pharoahs were not satisfied to be rich oppressors; they wanted tombs bigger than all other men so that, besides attaining immortality, they would also be worshipped as gods.

Most of them spent their lives building their own tombs. Chephern, for example, had 100,000 laborers and stonecutters working on his tomb when the artisans found a large natural spur of rock under the sand. The pharoah studied it, and decided it was shaped like a croching lion. So he ordered the workers to chisel it into the shape of a huge lion, with the head of a pharoah.

Chephren wanted it to look like him. It is called The Sphinx. Cheops used 100,000 workmen to build his tomb, and they worked only three months each year, during the flood stage of the Nile. The huge stones were floated as close to the desert as possible, then trundled over an artificial road graded at two per cent. As each course of stone was laid in place, the sandy road was lengthened so that, in time, it reached near the top of the pyramids without becoming any steeper than two per cent.

The artisans also had huge wooden cradles. A huge stone could be placed in it and, with about 50 men on each side, the stone could be rocked upward, from the bottom of the pyramid to the top, in stages. Each stone measures 40 cubic feet. The work required 20 years.

The Great Pyramid of Cheops measures 746 feet on each side, a shrinkage of 10 feet in 5,000 years. It has also shrunk about 30 feet into the sand. Ten years ago, I stood in the 34-foot granite room in which Cheop's body once lay. Before he died, he had two small airshafts, on an incline of 30 degrees, built outward from his chamber.

Long ago, archeologists discovered the true entrance to the tombs as opposed to the "Ka." They removed the bodies of the pharoahs, and their jewels too. The pyramids are empty.

It was a hot day. Karen and Kathleen squinted at the three pyramids. Kathleen grinned. I nodded. I was thinking of the action of tremendous heat on the stones of the pyramids all day, and the chill of night which cracks the big blocks. Someday, those big tombstones will be small grains of sand.

Strategy Session Slated for Today By Sen. Mahoney

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Campaign techniques and legislative reapportionment were on the agenda today as Republican candidates for state senator gathered here for a strategy session.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney called the meeting to map plans for retaining GOP control of the Senate. Republicans now hold a 33-25 edge over Democrats.

Fred A. Young, the Republican state chairman, agreed to participate in the discussions. A Mahoney spokesman said that the candidates probably would take some stand on the reapportionment issue.

A special Federal Court has ordered the New York government to adopt by next April 1 a new plan for allocating Senate and Assembly districts. The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled the present reapportionment formula unconstitutional.

Republican candidates for the Assembly, at a similar meeting here last month, went on record favoring proposed federal legislation designed to postpone action for two years.

Ethel Ennis Has Bright Future in World of Jazz

By KATHIE DIBELL

BALTIMORE (AP) — An exciting singer named Ethel Ennis is hoping to rival the late Billie Holliday as Baltimore's leading contribution to the world of jazz.

Miss Ennis until recently was relatively unknown, except to a few connoisseurs of American jazz, and her loyal local following.

Then in July, Miss Ennis appeared at the Newport Jazz Festival with such stars as Louis Armstrong and Dave Brubeck.

One critic said she was "the individual star of the festival," and "a singer of extraordinary polish and finesse."

After 14 years on the small club circuit, the 31-year-old Negro vocalist was discovered.

Almost immediately she was booked at outstanding clubs in Chicago and New York. She was asked to appear on television shows. New record albums were cut for release later this year.

Progressive, She Says

Variously described as a second Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughn or Peggy Lee, Miss Ennis tags herself a "progressive pop singer."

"I hate to sing any song exactly as it's written. That's progressive. But I don't want to sing too far out so that people don't understand it," she said recently at the West Baltimore club where she has worked off and on for the past nine years.

She says she never consciously copied any singer's style.

Although jazz is her forte, Miss Ennis also likes what she calls the better rock 'n roll numbers. "The ones that used to be called rhythm and blues, but since the whites are doing it, we call it rock 'n roll."

"I prefer the ballads, the torchy things, the ones every day people feel."

The daughter of a Baltimore baker, Miss Ennis started her musical career with piano lessons when she was 7.

"I hated it. I always wanted to be a ballerina. But my grandparents said I'd be dancing with the devil. Now I'm singing with him," she said.

Her first professional jobs were as a pianist.

Toured With Bands

"I never thought of singing in a club, only in church. Then one night they asked me to sing. I was well received and decided to hang up a shingle as a singer."

She is no stranger to the big bands. In 1958, Miss Ennis toured Europe with Benny Goodman's orchestra. The tour included appearances at the Brussels World's Fair.

She loved Europe, but she didn't like the big band.

"I'm not a projectionist. I like the small rooms," she said.

Casually sultry, she picks her way softly through a song.

She seems to ignore the crowd during blues numbers. Her head is bowed. Her eyes are partly closed.

Offstage, she is a vivacious, warm person — intensely ambitious, but not overtly aggressive.

Her husband, Jacques E. Leeds, is a lawyer, the first Negro assistant attorney general in Maryland. They have no children.

That Extra Something

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The big boss was coming to town so Harry L. Modovan arranged for a cookout in his backyard.

The piece de resistance was a 3-pound sirloin steak which Moldovan slapped on the grill ahead of time.

Along came a neighbor's dog and snatched the steak, with Moldovan in pursuit.

The stores were closed so the steak went back on the grill.

The boss, who had missed the commotion, told his hostess later: "Sally, I don't know what you did to this steak, but it's delicious."

No Doctor, Coder Aboard

Johnson Departs From Tradition On Detroit Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who sometimes likes to depart from tradition, flew to Detroit Monday without having a physician or code-carrying military officer aboard his small jet transport.

The doctor and the officer went to Detroit aboard a second plane that flew an identical route. All available space on Johnson's aircraft was occupied by the President and his wife, five Democratic members of Congress from Michigan, two labor union officials, a White House speechwriter and two Secret Service agents.

During the Kennedy administration, and on earlier flights by Johnson, both the physician and the code officer had flown regularly aboard the presidential plane — one available to treat any emergency health problem and the other to hand over top secret codes that the chief executive might urgently need in a national security crisis.

On the Detroit trip, it was learned Tuesday night, the plane that carried the doctor, the military man and other White House aides had a pressurization breakdown and descended from 24,000 feet to 8,000 feet. The White House said this "presented no hazards whatsoever."

The plane was identical in mechanical features to the Air Force Jetstar transport used by Johnson on that day.

Johnson has occasionally used a Jetstar as president, starting with a June 26 flight to a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Detroit. He often used one as vice president.

The Jetstar was cleared for presidential travel by the Federal Aviation Agency earlier this year, after some modifications were made in the craft.

Some White House and Pentagon officials have expressed unhappiness privately about Johnson's use of a Jetstar, arguing that it lacks the sizable crew, capacity or full range of communications gear available on the regular presidential transport, a Boeing 707.

RFK Bids Arabs Reconsider Act Against Israel

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy today urged Arab leaders to reconsider a reported joint military plan for possible action against Israel.

Kennedy, campaigning in Upstate New York for the U.S. senate, issued a statement on development in the Middle East.

Disturbed by Reports

"I was extremely disturbed by reports that the Arab leaders at a conference at Alexandria had agreed on a unified military plan for possible action against Israel.

"Such preparations can only inflame the difficult situation that now exists in the Middle East," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said the Israeli project to use the waters of the Jordan River is not a threat to the economic development of any other country. "It should not be the occasion for increased antagonism," Kennedy said. "I think the Arabs should reconsider."

The former attorney general, a Democrat, is on a three-day tour of Up-state New York. The region is predominantly Republican.

Kennedy was born in Massachusetts and has lived in Virginia for the last three years.

He told a Buffalo audience Tuesday night that "the Kennedys always felt Buffalo was almost a second home." He explained that this city had given his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, powerful support in his 1960 Presidential campaign.

Several times, Kennedy said "I grew up in New York and have a great affection for the state." He said he lived in New York until he went away to school.

He referred frequently to his Republican opponent, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating. Kennedy said Keating refuses to say whether he is for or against GOP Presidential candidate Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Roaring Climax

A roaring climax to the day awaited Kennedy as he approached Buffalo at night. The 10-mile route from the airport to the center of the city was lined almost solidly as his motorcade passed. Some police officials estimated 100,000 people were on the streets.

Kennedy's itinerary today takes him to other points in and near Buffalo. He is scheduled to go later to Batavia and to finish his day in Rochester.

Jobless Teacher Held for Break Into Star's Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nathaniel Calvin Stegall, an unemployed schoolteacher, told police he had come here by train last week from St. Louis to propose to actress Kim Novak.

Stegall, 41, spent the last of his money on a cab ride to her home in the Bel-Air district. But she wasn't there.

So he climbed through a bathroom window, raided the refrigerator and, when no one turned up, slept in the garage Saturday night — and again Sunday.

Monday evening two of Miss Novak's friends dropped by to use the swimming pool, heard someone stirring, and called police.

Miss Novak is in London, working on a picture.

Police booked Stegall on suspicion of burglary.

She Has Oil, Too

Folks Can't Pick Granny Out in Her Real Togs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A sleek beige sports car, with red leather bucket seats, stick shift and wire wheels, drew smoothly up to the entrance of the hotel. Out stepped a slim woman with blonde hair, discreet make-up, wearing a chic blue knit dress and high-heeled shoes.

Neither the face nor the figure seemed familiar, but there came a familar voice: "I'm sure sorry to be late, but we're on location in the hills today and I raced back to dab some water on this pore ole face." It was Grannie, the peppery old lady from the Ozark hills who refuses to be influenced by the sharp civilized ways of Beverly Hills.

Irene Ryan, who created the crotchety character in "Beverly Hillbillies," is a veteran professional actress who has been in show business since she won a San Francisco amateur contest at the age of 11. Her experience includes vaudeville, radio, motion pictures, night clubs, but it wasn't until she popped up in the corn-fed CBS comedy series which exploded into a hit that she tasted the sweets of real success.

The series came at a critical moment in her life. A widow, her second marriage had ended unhappily and she was trying to decide whether to return to night clubs. Paul Henning, an old friend, took one look at her slight, slim figure and heard her squeaky voice and decided that, with some drab gray hair, old rags, Army boots and gold-rimmed specs that Grannie Clampett had come to life.

Since then, it is Irene who has come to life. The Clampett fortune, in the show, came from oil. A bit superstitiously, Irene invested a bit of her salary in an oil well and today she, too, receives a handsome monthly check — not millions, but a nice chunk of spending money.

"It's been a pretty busy summer for me," she said. "We've been out playing the fairs, pleasing the crowds — and making money."

The only real fly in this compulsive performer's ointment is that Irene Ryan looks so totally unlike Grannie that it is literally impossible to recognize her.

"I can go anywhere," she says, just a little bit unhappily.

Maureen O'Sullivan, who left the cast of a Broadway hit to take over the woman's spot on NBC's "Today" show last May, decided that 13 weeks was enough and leaves at the end of next week. Pat Fontaine, who preceded Miss O'Sullivan as the "Today Girl" and established a longevity record in the spot, is reported to be back in St. Louis with her own weather show.

Typhoon Lashes Philippines With 200-MPH Winds

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Sally lashed the northern Philippines today with winds up to 200 miles an hour.

The typhoon cut through the Babuyan Channnel north of Luzon Island on its way into the South China Sea. There were no immediate reports of damage from the isolated area.

Sally's fringe winds struck south Formosa, but no damage or casualties were reported.

Refugeees from Red China reported in the Portuguese mainland colony of Macao that Typhoon Ruby killed more than 20 persons and injured 100 others in Communist country inland from Macao.

Vols Respond

Several area volunteer fire companies responded to calls yesterday and early today.

At 12:42 p. m. Tuesday, Modena and Plattekill Fire units were dispatched to a dump to extinguish burning rubbish. Brush fires were reported at Saxton, Glasco, Milton and Plattekill.

A frame building was destroyed at the Highland Orchards, and New Paltz and Mt. Marion and Ruby were called out for auto fires on the Thruway.

Quell Mattress Fire

Port Ewen Fire Co., was called out at about 8:30 a. m. today to extinguish a mattress fire at the home of John Costello on Cornell Street. It is believed the fire started from a cigarette. Considerable smoke seeped through the rooms.

Binnewater, Rosendale and Cottekill firemen extinguished fire Tuesday afternoon that damaged a bungalow on the property of Edward Weir at Binnnewater. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Most Historic

Several walkouts were reported at Chrysler plants today. However, union spokesmen termed them "expressions of exuberance" and said normal production would resume later today.

Moves to Check Walkouts

Reuther said he had notified all local UAW units around the country of the settlement and had instructed them to continue negotiations on at-the-plant grievances. This was expected to prevent any local wildcat walkouts.

More than half the 106 UAW bargaining units already have reported settlement of their problems.

Reuther said the early retirement benefits call for an average monthly payment of $400 for each worker at the age of 60 with 30 years of service. The pension, however, is not to exceed 70 per cent of the worker's pay at the time he retires.

The two new holidays added to the present six full and two half-day holidays were Good Friday and the birthday of each worker.

For those already retired, Reuther said the new contract calls for fully paid hospital and medical insurance, plus an increase in pension payments averaging $620 a year for those with 30 years service.

In addition, survivors' benefits for widows already were included in the contract for the first time.

Both Are Pleased

Both Reuther and Leary expressed pleasure over the agreement.

"This demonstrates beyond question that free labor and free management can make collective bargaining work," said the UAW head.

"I am pleased that we were able to arrive at a settlement good for our employes, our dealers, and our shareholders," added the Chrysler executive.

If precedent prevails, the Chrysler package will set a pattern for the other members of the industry's Big Three-GM and Ford, as well as American Motors Corp.

Contracts with the Big Three originally were scheduled to expire at the end of last month, but were extended to today by mutual agreement.

Shortly after the Chrysler settlement was announced, GM and the UAW said their contract was being extended indefinitely with a 48-hour cancellation clause.

Some Details Vague

There was no immediate comment from Ford on extension of the contract there.

The new contract grants an additional week of vacation to each worker.

Reuther and Leary left some details vague or blank as they went back into the negotiating room to thrash out the exact language.

The UAW chief said his International Executive Board will meet tonight to chart the course at Ford and GM.

Doctors Say Segni Speech Improving

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni's doctors say there are signs that his speech, impaired by the stroke he suffered 33 days ago, is improving.

Segni, 73, also has shown steady improvement in his general condition, the doctors said, but the paralysis of his right side remains.

She was the widow of Walter G. Geroldsek, former supervisor of the Town of Shandaken and Ulster County clerk. She had resided at 127 Emerson Street.

Mrs. Geroldsek was the oldest member of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

Surviving are two sons, John L. and Walter F. Geroldsek, and a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth H. Wood, all of Kingston. Three grandchildren and six great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the A. Carr & Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl Street, Friday 10:30 a. m. Burial will be in Pine Hill Cemetery. There will be no calling hours.

Ellenville Grass Fires

Ellenville firemen in command of Chief William McCombes extinguished two grass fires in the district on Tuesday. At 11:30 a. m. volunteers were dispatched to Berme Road and at 1:15 p. m. to Glenwood Drive to quell fires that burned in dry grass.

Black Alters . . .

fendant, withdrew the former innocent plea to the murder charge and told the Court Black desired to plead guilty to second degree manslaughter.

Rothblatt said the death had resulted from "culpable negligence" on the part of defendant and that the facts lacked the element of intent.

District Attorney Corwin said the plea was acceptable. He reviewed the facts on the shooting and the resulting arrest. On July 6, 1959, a few days after the shooting, Black was examined by Middletown State Hospital psychiatrists and as a result was committed to Mattewan State Hospital as a person who was unable to understand the nature of his act or to prepare for trial. Black remained in Matteawan for four years and was then released as having sufficiently recovered to defend himself.

Corwin said an examination of the files in the case, and as a result of psychiatric reports, he felt the People could not prove the elements necessary to convict defendant of either first or second degree murder. He said after three days of testimony in relation to the taking of the statement the day after the shooting, the Court had found, and he agreed, that the statement should not be admitted in evidence. Without the statement the element of intent could not be proven. He said after the testimony of psychiatrists at the hearing last week, he was convinced that the statement could not be relied on.

Corwin said under a recent Supreme Court decision a defendant must be advised of his right to counsel and must waive his right to counsel before a statement could be taken. Deprived of the statement which Black made to police officials, Corwin said he had no proof to show premeditation as required for a first degree murder convictions, or to show the intent necessary for a second degree murder conviction. However, he said there was sufficient evidence available to prove manslaughter.

Judge Tucker said he agreed, after the three days of testimony on motion to reject the statement, that the district attorney would not have elements necessary to prove first or second degree murder.

Drug Case Taken Up

Sentence will be pronounced at 10 a. m. Friday.

Following the termination of the Black case, County Judge Raymond J. Mino took over the court and selection of a jury to hear the testimony in the Robert Harrell case was taken up. Harrell is charged with unlawful sale and possession of a narcotic drug. Charles Saccoman is counsel for defendant.

An Associated Press Series

Views of President Johnson Presented on Various Issues

The views of President Lyndon B. Johnson on a variety of topical issues is being presented in a series of articles compiled by the Associated Press.

The opinions expressed have been taken from the President's speeches, magazine articles, news conferences nd other public remarks and messages. The final installment today includes his stand on the great society, the United Nations and his attitude on violence.

THE GREAT SOCIETY

Johnson first came up with the concept of the Great Society in a speech May 22, 1964, at Ann Arbor, Mich., at the commencement of the University of Michigan. He said:

"For in your time we have the opportunity to move not only toward the rich society and the powerful society, but upward to the Great Society.

"The Great Society rests on abundance and liberty for all. It demands an end to poverty and racial injustice—to which we are totally committed in our time. But that is just the beginning.

"The Great Society is a place where every child can find knowledge to enrich his mind and enlarge his talents. It is a place where leisure is a welcome chance to build and reflect, not a feared cause of boredom and restlessness. It is a place where the city of man serves not only the needs of the body and the demands of commerce, but the desire for beauty and the hunger for community.

"It is a place where man can renew contact with nature. It is a place which honors creation for its own sake, and for what it does to the understanding of the race. It is a place where men are more concerned with the quality of their goals than the quantity of their goods.

"But, most of all, the Great Society is not a safe harbor, a resting place, a final objective, a finished work. It is a challenge constantly renewed, beckoning us toward a destiny where the meaning of our lives matches the marvelous products of our labor."

UNITED NATIONS

In a Senate speech July 2, 1954, Johnson said:

"First, the American people want no appeasement of the Communists.

"Second, in my opinion the American people will refuse to support the United Nations if Communist China shoots its way into membership."

In a speech Dec. 17, 1963, before the United Nations General Assembly, he said:

"I know that vast problems remain, conflicts between great powers, conflicts between small neighbors, disagreements over disarmament, persistence of ancient wrongs in the area of human rights, residual problems of colonialism, and all the rest. But men and nations working apart created these problems, and men and nations working together must solve them.

"They can solve them with the help of this organization, when all members make it a workshop for constructive action, and not a forum for abuse; when all members seek its help in settling their own disputes as well as the disputes of others; when all members meet their financial obligations to it; and when all members recognize that no nation and no party and no system can control the future of man."

VIOLENCE

On July 18, 1964, in a news conference at his Johnson City, Tex., ranch, in response to a question about a statement by Sen. Goldwater that violence in the streets would be a major campaign issue, Johnson said:

"I think that I should remind all that the United States is one of the few nations which does not have a national police force. The Constitution provides the responsibility for law and order should be vested in the states and in the local commmunities, for the protection of the individual.

"I would be interested in seeing the other party spell out what some of you seem to feel is a serious takeover of local law enforcement, because I think all of us realize it has the gravest implications.

"I think it would be of the utmost concern to those who believe that the federal government's federal police power should be limited to interstate matters in situations where the states' ability to maintain law and order has broken down."

He began that same news conference with a condemnation of hate groups and tactics of intimidation:

"I condemn as do most Americans the use of violence and terror by clandestine hate organizations."

West Firms Are Courting Red Trade Despite Block

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP) — Western traders — especially the British — are courting Commmunist East Germany's business. They say West Germany is trying to block them.

The traders are here in large numbers for the autumn Leipzig Trade Fair, largest in the Communist world. One of the most vocal complaints about West German opposition came from Brunaby Drayson, Conservative member of the British Parliament from a Yorkshire agricultural area.

In an interview, Drayson said the West Germans are trying by political and other means to keep Western countries from trading with East Germany. He said British businessmen were insisting on a fair share of the market.

West Germany is the biggest Western trader with East Germany. Total trade both ways ran to about $437 million last year. West German officials, although insisting on official nonrecognition of the Communist regime, contend trade is a domestic matter and may help achieve German reunification.

The British buy most of East German potash exports, about 6 million tons a year. Drayson said the East Germans are prepared to shave the price a few shillings per ton below what suppliers from other countries are asking.

Drayson said the quality of East German potash is exactly the same as West German potash since both countries are mining it from the same fields.

Glasco Postmaster Appointment Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote today these postmaster appointments by President Johnson for New York State.

Clen R. Freeborough, Allentown; Robert K. Baker, Argyle; Donald M. Griffith, Carthage; William H. Allen, Elba; Archie C. Raimondi, Glasco; James E. O'Donnell, Newcomb; Edward M. Matus, St. Johnsville; Andrew J. Burr Jr., Scio.

Apple Prices Recommended for Sauce Processing

The New York Farm Bureau Marketing Cooperative, an affiliate of the New York Farm Bureau and a member of the American Agriculture Marketing Association, has recommended the following price schedule for sauce variety processing apples delivered to New York processing plants:

Class A varieties, includes R. I. Greenings, Baldwins, Rome, 20 Ounce, Cortland, Ben Davis, size 2½ up $2.50 per hundred weight. 2 inch to 2½ inch, $1.75 and ciders, $1 per cwt.

Class B varieties, includes McIntosh, Delicious, Golden Delicious, Wealthy, 2½ inch and up, $2.25 per cwt; 2 inch to 2½ inch, $1.50; ciders $1.

The announcerment was made by John S. Gold, manager of MYFBMC, who said that the price of $2.50 per hundred pounds of 2½ inch and up hard sauce varieties had been recommended to member marketing associations in seven states by the AAA. These states include, in addition to New York, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia, and account for 50 per cent of the production of apples for processing. State associations will recommend retail price schedules in their individual states.

The recommended price was arrived at after a thorough study of market conditions, supplies and production estimates.

While the national apple crop is estimated to be 17 per cent larger than in 1963, and 34 per cent larger in the "sauce" regions, many industry leaders feel this is an opportunity crop, one that can be moved for benefit of the total industry.

Dear Abby . . .

Wearin' O' the Green?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to a wedding reception. After the gifts had been opened, the bride passed her shoe around to be filled with money. I had never seen anything like it before. Is that the custom nowadays? It seems to me if you take a gift, that should be enough. The people I have asked said they had never heard of such a thing either, and I wonder if you or any of your readers have. Thank you.

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: I have never heard of this "custom" either. Next they'll be passing the GROOM'S shoe around. The bigger the foot the greater the loot.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: First of all, these names are fictitious. My son, John married Jane, a lovely quiet girl who worked to help John finish college. They have been married three years. Jane has a friend, who is pretty, unmarried and vivacious. Well, I think Linda goes to John and Jane's apartment a little too often for everybody's good. She has stayed with them on weekends and holidays. (She sleeps on the pull-down bed in the living room.) When Jane's mother suddenly became ill last month, she flew to be with her in another state. Linda then moved into Jane's apartment to "keep house" for John. (In a 3 room apt.!) I am not inferring that there was anything wrong, but it looked bad. I've already heard some talk about them. Even though my son is bright and has always been a good boy, I don't know how strong he is against temptation. Jane is not the jealous or suspicious type, but I think someone should tell her not to be so trusting. Should I?

USE ANY NAME BUT MINE

DEAR USE: Your son is the one you should talk to. If he's "bright" he will quickly see the light. And if he's "good" he will want to avoid the appearance of evil. And if something IS going on, he'll know he isn't fooling any one.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: That paragraph out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, telling girls exactly what to say to boys who ask them to "prove their love" was wonderful advice. I could have used it four years ago.

I was in love with a boy I would have done anything for. And I did. Everything you listed happened to me. I committed an immoral act. I threw away my self respect. I lost my reputation, and I did get in trouble.

If young girls would only listen to your advice daily, they could save themselves and their parents a lot of heartaches.

TOO LATE

Maine Girl Wins A Desert Island

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Like to own a desert island? A South Portland girl has won one.

West Brown Cow Island is in Maine's Casco Bay, four miles from the mainland.

There isn't even a tree on the two-acre rock. Just grass and scrub growth.

"It looks like a whale," says Madelene A. Hourihan, 22, a secretary who won the island in a contest sponsored by a car dealer.

"I'll just keep it for weekends — for tenting, lobster feeds, fishing or just roughing it."

Nominees Step Up State Drive For Senate Seat

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republican Kenneth B. Keating and Democrat Robert F. Kennedy, who wants Keating's Senate seat, stepped up their campaigns today after exchanging verbal assaults in Upstate appearances.

Keating listed stops at Ogdensburg, Watertown and Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury on his agenda today while Kennedy's schedule included visits to points in the Buffalo, area, Batavia and Rochester.

Contrasts Record

Keating continued to contrast his 18-year record in Congress as a representative of New York to Kennedy's status as a relative newcomer to the state.

But Kennedy, who received a tumultuous welcome in Buffalo Tuesday night, said that New Yorkers want to know where Keating stands on the candidacy of Barry Goldwater for president.

Keating has refused to support the national GOP ticket of Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller. He has said that there are too many differences between his policies and those of the Arizona senator.

During a swing through the state's North Country yesterday, Keating labeled Kennedy's entrance into the senatorial race a "cynical threat" to the principle of representative government. And, speaking in Malone, where several hundred persons greeted him, Keating referred to the fact that Kennedy could not vote for himself in the November election because he became a New York State resident only a few weeks ago.

Kennedy, however, met the "carpetbagger" charge head-on, acknowledging that he had been involved in recent years with his work in the administration of his late brother.

But he insisted, in street-corner rallies yesterday in Binghamton and Elmira, that the people of New York were more concerned with other questions.

Critical Issues: Bobby

"In this year of 1964, Kennedy said, with the issues as critical as they are, with Sen. Goldwater's programs as radical as they are, you are either for him or against him.

"You can't have it both ways."

Kennedy capped a day of vigorous campaigning with an appearance in heavily Democratic Buffalo that attracted thousands of cheering spectators.

He also encountered sizable crowds in appearances earlier in Jamestown and Elmira.

Among the issues the candidates discussed Thuesday was compulsory busing of school children as a means of ending racial segregation. Keating and Kennedy appeared to be opposed to the maneuver.

In Binghamton, Kennedy told a news conference he opposed compulsory transportation of school children over "long distances" as a method of racial integration. Keating also has said he is opposed.

Suspicious Locker

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A clerk in a bus depot eyed William Janowitz suspiciously as he described the contents of his pay locker.

Janowitz, 20, of Columbus, Ohio, had told the clerk he had lost his key, and the clerk asked him what was in it.

Lock picks, glass cuttters and a hacksaw blade, Janowitz replied. The clerk called police, who arrested Janowitz.

Janowitz waived an extradition hearing Tuesday and was returned to Columbus, where he faces burglary and theft charges.

Shastri in Deep Trouble As Successor of Nehru

NEW DELHI India (AP) — Deserted by some members of his own party, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is in deep political trouble just three months after assuming the leadership of India.

The nation's stability will depend on how well this shy, unassuming man fights back against Communist-led opponents of his government and how well he handles a food crisis affecting millions.

Trouble has been mounting rapidly since Shastri succeeded the late Prime Minister Nehru June 9 and then in August fought back from a disabling heart ailment.

Shastri's prestige and position within his own ruling Congress party took its heaviest blow yet Tuesday.

The party's state government in the southern Communist bastion of Kerala collapsed on a no-confidence motion the Reds rammed through the legislature. In New Delhi, a united front of Communists, Socialists and right-wing Hindus stepped up their attack on Shastri's food policies. Parliament will vote later this week on a motion of no confidence against the prime minister.

The Congress party's big majority assures the defeat of the motion, but Congress members themselves were voicing some of the harshest criticism hurled at Shastri.

Congress member A.C. Guha of West Bengal declared the nation's reserves of food grains are gone and the food situation is the worst since the great Bengal famine killed millions in 1943.

The prime minister's opponents in the party hierarchy are grumbling that he is not tough enough to control the situation. This was the main argument of rightwinger Morarji Desai when he contested the selection of Shastri as Nehru's successor.

Desai, known for his toughness, is again being mentioned as the man to take over.

Food demonstrations continue throughout India. Rival groups of Kashmiri nationalists brawled in the streets of Srinagar.

Much of northern India is covered by the worst floods in 40 years.

Sources close to Shastri say he is planning stern action.

By the end of the week he is expected to dissolve the Kerala legislature and set up a state government controlled by New Delhi. The Communists are expected to retaliate with demonstrations.

Bus Goes by Train

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A shiny double-decker bus, pride of the London Passenger Transport Board, may make its first trip in America on a train.

The bus arrived by boat Tuesday en route to a British import fair display at Cincinnati. There was only one hitch — the bus is 14 feet 5 inches high. Overhead bridge and wire clearance here is 13 feet 6 inches.

A spokesman at the British Consulate said, "the only thing we know for sure is that we can get it there by train."

Lodge Official To Be Speaker At Moose Meeting

Director of Membership Conservation Department of the Loyal Order of the Moose, George A. Pelton, will be guest speaker at a meeting of Kingston Lodge 970 at 82 Prince Street, 8 p. m. Saturday.

Governor Thaddeus Hudela will officiate at enrollment of a large class of candidates. Local degree team will exemplify ritual with William Ballard as chairman.

The guest speaker became associated with the Moose in June, 1947 when he joined Columbus, Mont., Lodge No. 1308. He was elected secretary of the lodge after having been a member for only four months. In 1949, he moved to Great Falls, Mont. where he took over as secretary of that lodge.

Pelton joined the auditing staff of the Supreme Lodge in 1951 and continued in that capacity until he was promoted to Deputy Supreme Secretary in 1954. On July 1, 1960, he assumed the additional duties of director of the Membership Conservation Department.

At the 75th annual international convention of the Order in Chicago in 1963, Pelton was made full time director of the Conservation Department and relieved of his duties as a Deputy Supreme Secretary.

The Pilgrim Degree of Merit, the Order's highest degree, was conferred on him in August of 1958.

The Conservation Director was born in DuBois, Neb. on Sept. 25, 1909, and received his advanced education at Montana State College. Pelton is married and resides with his wife, Henrietta, and one daughter in Batavia, Ill. They also have a married son.

Country Church Still Going Big After 30 Years

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For 30 years the Country Church of Hollywood has dispensed its oldtime religion, and it's still going strong.

You'll find it not many steps from Hollywood and Vine, yet when you enter its grounds, shaded by tall jacaranda, camphor and pine trees, the din of the city seems far away. And as you enter the white-steepled church, you are transported to another, simpler era.

At services on Sunday morning and evening and at prayer meetings Wednesday night, the rafters ring with the sounds of gospel singing and the word of the Lord as spoken by the Rev. Rudy Atwood. Thus, the vision of the "Goose Creek parson" is carried on many years after his death.

Martha Hogg, daughter of the founder and member of the board of trustees, talks proudly of the building, modeled after a small church in Ashland City, Tenn., that her father had visited as a circuit rider.

He was William Bennnett Hogg, a high school principal in Misssissippi until he received the call to enter the service of God. He became a Methodist minister, served as chaplain in World War I and was on General Pershing's staff in Germany during the occupation.

The Rev. Mr. Hogg returned to the ministry, but in 1928 he suffered a nervous breakdown.

"Doctors said it was the strain of having to bury 3,000 young men during the war," his daughter explained.

After his recovery, he prayed to determine whether he should return to preaching. The answer seemed to be yes, and he turned to evangelism. He appeared at large tabernacles in Chicago and Los Angeles.

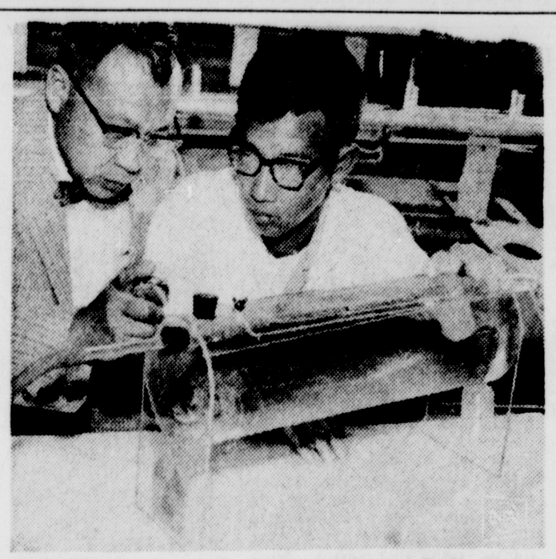

It was here that he found himself without a job, and he suggested to radio station KFAC a program about a country parson.

The minister and his wife became known as Josiah and Sarah Hopkins, and their program was a local favorite. Through it he saw the fulfillment of a dream.

"Hollywood is the most preposterous place to build a country church," he said. "That's why I want to build it here. I want a church with none of the high pressure of today's religion. A little church we don't have to fill, one which people don't feel they have to come to or contribute to."

And so the country church rose on Argyle Street.

Rev. Mr. Hogg died in 1937, three years after the country church was built.

FISH STORY—Dr. R. E. Nakatani, left, and D. H. W. Lui are conducting experiments to determine the effects of radiation on fish. Recent tests in their Richland, Wash., biology laboratory indicate there is no significant physical change in fish that have been fed large amounts of radioactive substances.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Clarence C. Raichle, chairman of the group who composed the Ulster County Data Book, gave me a copy. On this committee are also the following: Peter Williams, Joseph Martorana, George Majestic, Abram Molyneaux, Douglas Dye and Irving Bell. The Ulster County Data Book is dated June, 1964 and is for sale. There is no end of information and leads for business establishments and taxpayers as to what took place in Ulster County from 1652 to 1964.

On page B-1 the historical development is covered, flattering this section somewhat by saying "since 1652 (Ulster Co.) has been a transportation hub, a prosperous trading center and point of distribution for merchandise for the mid-Hudson Valley . . ." and further, "The first little stockaded village in 1652 was under Dutch sovereignty . . ." In 1652 it far from reached the village state, for they had only scattered farms all over up to 1658, when the Indians were giving each homestead such a difficult time, that famous one-legged Peter Stuyvesant, came up to now Kingston, then Wiltwyck, and ordered all the farmers to move their farmsteads inside a given piece of land. Then is when they built a 14 foot high fence all around this section, and called this the stockade. This was not done until 1658. The stockade was built in a period of three weeks, and that is the location most folks refer to as the uptown business section of today.

I can see a great deal of effort went into the publishing of this book and so far I have just skimmed through it. The printing is sharp, large, clear and black, and a pleasure to read. I wonder who gets the credit for the printing and how it was done.

It would be impossible to cover the entire Ulster County History from 1652 to 1964 in this book, but just the same they found space for such interesting items as mention of James Fenimore Cooper's book "The Pioneers" on his description of the Catskills. I see they include name of John Vanderlyn (1775-1852) and his gold medal from Napoleon for painting Marious at the Ruins of Carthage. They even note that Vanderlyn's painting is in the Washington, D. C. Capitol rotunda (Landing of Columbus) and it being reproduced on the back of the old (large) five dollar bill. There is mention of the Hudson River School of painting, and of course Thomas Cole, whose name is in the news in 1964, because his beautiful paintings and other items seem to be up for sale, because somehow the government money could not be found to preserve them in the original home. This book manages to prove very firmly that there can be no tomorrow without a yesterday, although politicians do not often agree on it.

They have the U. S. Ulster County Census in the book. I see in 1950 Ulster County totaled 92,621 and in 1960 they went up to 118,804. Going back to 1920 it had 74,979. I checked an Aug. 28, 1952 Freeman item, in which they mention Kingston's first Census Bureau report of 1870, when 6,315 persons were living in Kingston. The greatest increase in population occurred between 1870 and 1880 when it added some 12,029. I wonder why. Then it went up until it reached 28,000 in 1930 and stayed there until this book places it at 28,817 and for 1960 it makes it 29,260. Somehow Kingston just cannot make that 30,000 mark.

I see we stand first in apple production and second in egg production and first in sweet corn for the fresh market for the state. This would be a good book to be read in our school system, as it is written by our people for us, instead of another state or foreign country, by strangers.

Suit Is Filed Against Dallas Police by Picket

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A picket jailed after the Nov. 22 assassination of President John F. Kennedy filed a false arrest suit against three policemen Tuesday.

Gene A. Guinn, asked $150 damages in the suit against Capt. Pat Gannaway, head of the police department's special service bureau, and detectives T. T. Wardlaw and M. H. Brumley.

Guinn was one of six persons arrested near the Trade Mart shortly after the assasssination. Police said they were waving anti-Kennedy signs. They were held four days for investigation.

Guinn said a trespassing charge against him was dismissed and he filed the suit to recover "lost income."

Doubt Jagan's Ouster Will Help

Racial Violence Dims British Guiana Hopes

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Dr. Cheddi Jagan has turned in his prophet's robes for the trappings of a practical politician to avert election defeat this fall.

The consensus is that the darkly handsome Marxist prime minister will fail.

Ouster Certainty

But to British Guianese who consider Jagan's ouster a certainty, the forthcoming elections will amount to no more than changing the driver of the same old bus route. This is because of a spreading belief that the wave of racial violence between Guianese of East Indian and of African descent has gone beyond political control.

Without internal peace and a common objective, little hope is held for the development of this troubled colony, whether the leader be Jagan or his arch-rival, Negro leader L. Forbes Burnham.

Need Other's Consent

Reflecting the opinion of some prominent Guianese, Police Commissioner Peter Owen said recently: "Neither Jagan nor Burnham can govern without the consent of the other. I'm afraid violence has now gone beyond the realm of politics."

Owen, a ruddy-faced Briton, commands a force of 1,600 men and 600 volunteers, often badly overmatched in 24 months of almost continuous civil strife. Terrorist violence since February has claimed 161 lives, 24 persons are missing, more than 800 wounded and damage to property and crops is estimated at over $2.5 million.

The violence has evolved around the controversial personalities of Jagan and big, erudite Burnham, 41, a lawyer-Shakespearan scholar with a large following among the Negro middle and poor classes, but viewed warily by some intellectuals who say they see in him a thirst for power.

Too Far Left

A Socialist and political ex-colleague of Jagan, Burnham bosses the Peoples' National Congress from a small office marked simply "leader." Party members refer to each other as "comrade."

There is little doubt that Burnham enjoys the full support of the U.S. and British governments. Jagan, the first Marxist with a clear-cut mandate in Western Hemisphere history and winner of three elections in the last decade, has been unable to govern successfully because of strong resistance at home, in London and in Washington to his policies. They are regarded as too far left.

Jagan apparently has decided the image cast by his left-wing extremist posture has cut too deeply into the ranks of his Peoples' Progressive party following to survive the new election test.

May Denounce Communism

Persons close to the party hierarchy report Jagan and his strategists are considering a public denunciation of communism.

The strategy is to overcome the election maneuver through which the British hope to oust Jagan and eventually grant independence to this long-unwanted colony. Under pressure from Washington, Britain has refused to let British Guiana go while Jagan remains leader.

The British Colonial Office has devised a proportional representation formula — bitterly opposed by Jagan and his party — for elections expected sometime in November.

Theoretically, in the absence of a clear majority for any of the three major parties, the prime ministry would go to a coalition — in this case the Burnham party and the arch-conservative United Force party. They got 41.3 and 16 per cent, respectively, of the 1960 vote.

Although their programs have key basic issues—independence and social reform—in common, Jagan and Burnham differ vigorously on points that have proven irreconcilable and would rule out a coalition at this time.

Confronted with formidable obstacles, Jagan seems bent on recovering lost ground in the urban areas he had neglected in favor of the rice paddies and sugar plantations, where his following borders on the mystical.

Measured against the tempo of racial violence, most of the campaign talk sounds hollow. There are only thin hopes that election results will restore peace.

Numismatics is the study of coins and medals, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Barry's Aide Is Victor In Arizona; Powell Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Kleindienst, field director of Sen. Barry Goldwater's successful bid for the GOP presidential nomination, won Arizona's Republican gubernatorial race as six states held primary elections Tuesday.

Kleindienst trounced Evan Mecham, Phoenix publisher and auto dealer, in his bid to succeed Gov. Paul Fannin. Fannin was unopposed for the GOP nomination to the Senate seat Goldwater has held for 12 years.

Across the nation, in New Hampshire, Republicans apparently ended the political career of former Gov. Wesley Powell. He lost the GOP gubernatorial primary to John Pillsbury.

Renominated with ease were Sens. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Govs. John King, D-N.H., John W. Reynolds, D-Wis., and Phillip Hoff, D-Vt.

Here is a rundown on key contests:

ARIZONA

Kleindienst was 15,000 votes ahead of Mecham on returns from about half of the state's precincts. His Democratic opponent in November will be Sam Goddard, who lost to Fannin in 1962. Fanmn's senatorial foe will be Roy Elson, for 10 years administrative assistant to Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz. Elson defeated former State Supreme Court Justice Renz Jennings and four others.

Kleindienst had resigned from Goldwater's campaign to make his first bid for elective office.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

Powell conceded to Pillsbury as counting passed the halfway mark. The former governor said he would back Pillsbury in the general election, a contrast to 1962 when he supported King.

VERMONT

Lt. Gov. Ralph A. Foote edged former Lt. Gov. Robert S. Babcock for the GOP gubernatorial nomination against Gov. Hoff. Sen. Prouty will be opposed by State Sen. Frederick J. Fayette who defeated former Rep. William H. Meyer in the Democratic primary.

MINNESOTA

McCarthy swamped two foes and also outpolled Republican Wheelock Whitney, his November opponent.

WISCONSIN

Reynolds swamped Milwaukee attorney Dominic Frinzi in the Democratic gubernatorial race, while Warren P. Knowles held a 2-to-1 lead on the GOP side over Milo Knutson, five-term mayor of La Crosse and a staunch supporter of Goldwater who had said he would accept votes and funds from the John Birch Society. Proxmire easily outpolled two opponents, but his vote total was below that of unopposed GOP nominee Wilbur Renk.

COLORADO

There were no senatorial or gubernatorial races. All four House members were renominated.

Police Probing

Two pump streams were used.

Pump streams from a Wiltwyck engine and one from the Wicks Company were used on the railroad station blaze with Lt. Joseph J. Miles, of Wiltwyck Station, and Honorary Deputy Chief A. Foster Winfield, of the Wicks Company, in charge until the arrival of Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard. The latter were also at the Mill Street fire. A unit from Cordts Hose Company, and the Wicks salvage unit, were also dispatched to the station from the Mill Street fire.

Other areas of the station were damaged in recent fires, all of suspected origin.

Other Tuesday fire calls were: 2:24 p. m., a brush fire at the rear of 150 Highland Avenue; 5:01 p. m., a reported car fire near 58 North Front Street, but it turned out to be only an overheated motor on a car owned by William Coley, of 24 West OReilly Street, and 5:19 p. m., a grass fire in the Converse Street area near the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

Reports Car Damaged

Roger Gille, of 292 East Chester Street, notified police Tuesday night that his car had been maliciously damaged and a tire was stolen, while it was parked in a gas station area at Flatbush Avenue and East Chester Street. The shift lever had been "sawed off," and a distributor cap removed, he said. A window had been jimmied and an attempt was made to enter the trunk.

Florida Cities

"stacked up" in the Atlantic, like an airliner over a crowded airport, apparently waiting for Dora to land before making her own move.

Ethel, with winds of 80 miles an hour, has remained almost stationary for several hours 350 miles south-southeast of Bermuda and almost due east of Dora.

The St. Augustine peninsula was almost entirely evacuated by its some 3,000 residents late Tuesday and early this morning, many leaving via National Guard trucks and public school buses.

"There will always be some people who will refuse to move," said city Civil Defense Director Fred Lillis. "All we can do is let them stay."

10-Foot Tides Running

The Weather Bureau said tides up to 10 feet were running ahead of the massive hurricane in a small area north of its eye.

Hurricane and gale winds raged over 200,000 square miles of the Atlantic — an area 50,000 square miles larger than California, the nation's third largest state.

Huge waves rolled across Matanzas Bay and crashed over St. Augustine's main thoroughfare, Bay Street, scene of most of last summer's racial disorders and site of many historical buildings.

5,000 Out of Danger

Apparently out of danger were 5,000 persons who ignored the warnings of Civil Defense workers and chose to ride out the storm in ocean-front homes at Daytona Beach, about 50 miles south of St. Augustine.

A tide of about six feet hit the Daytona Beach peninsula early this morning, but did not damage any buildings. Police cautioned against sightseeing on the beach, however, warning that the storm danger had not passed.

Dora with hurricane and gale winds raging over an area twice the size of the state of Georgia, was centered just after daybreak 100 miles east of Daytona Beach and moving northwest toward St. Augustine.

Just 30 miles north of St. Augustine is Jacksonville, a city of 250,000 population which has not been hit by a full-sized hurricane in this century.

Top winds of about 125 miles an hour raged around the center of the storm.

Base to Skip Big Blow

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Stuart, Fla., northward to Brunswick, Ga., but the Air Force predicted that the Cape Kennedy missile base would get winds no higher than 65 m.p.h.

Gale warnings spread from Fort Myers to Apalachicola on the Florida Gulf coast, from Fort Lauderdale to Stuart on the Atlantic coast, and across giant Lake Okeechobee in the rich Everglades farming area.

The Weather Bureau said torrential rains falling around the eye of the hurricane might bring 10 inches to extreme north Florida and southeastern Georgia.

Hurricane warnings were lowered for the Tampa Bay area.

Thousands of persons from south of Cape Kennedy to Brunswick, Ga., spent the night in schools, churches and National Guard armories. They ate cold food and slept on makeshift beds. The Red Cross in Atlanta said the figure would reach 100,000.

Evacuation of low-lying areas and many island and peninsulas that dot Florida's East Coast was urged because of the fear that Dora's torrential rains and high tides would cut off access roads and wash away homes.

Resort Motels Dark

Mainland motels and hotels were packed with beachfront residents — many of them holding "hurricane parties."

A spot check of 20 miles of Daytona's beach showed only a few hardy souls staying to ride it out. Resort motels were dark.

The Daytona Beach Weather Bureau said a 10-foot tide would cover the peninsula.

Many beach residents around St. Augustine were reluctant to leave their homes. The county civil defense director finally sent school buses and National Guard trucks to help everyone to seek shelter.

Guard On Alert

Schools and many businesses were closed throughout the central and northern part of the state. Forty of the state's 67 counties were on civil defense alert. National Guard stations at five cities were on 24-hour duty.

Only emergency crews spent the night at the missile and space complex at Cape Kennedy. The single exception was Director Kurt Debus. He and his wife remained in his office.

Five rockets were dismantled and hauled from their pads as Dora approached, but a space agency spokesman said he believed no space programs would be delayed.

"We can pick up the days we lost very easily," he said.

A sixth rocket, the 190-foot Saturn 7, was left on the pad wrapped like a cocoon with a shield designed to withstand 175-mile winds.

A 23-year-old Brunswick, Ga., man, John Hornak, disappeared trying to retrieve a boat blown away in the Little Satilla River. Sheriff W. E. Smith said Hornak was presumed dead.

Two Navy fliers died while trying to escape Dora when their plane crashed on takeoff from Sanford Naval Air Station. They were Lt. Cmdr. John F. Moore, 38, of Maitland and Lt. Paul I. Henry of Sanford.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Moters and steels advanced today as the stock market celebrated Chrysler's labor pact. Trading was active early this afternoon.

Wall Street heaved a sigh of relief on news that Chrysler had reached agreement with the United Auto Workers, avoiding the threat of a nationwide strike.

Chrysler was bought heavily. Industrials staged a general advance, putting them further into new high ground.

By midsession, however, the atmosphere began to calm and traders began to take some profits.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 320.0 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .5 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was 3.75 above the historic closing high reached Tuesday, putting the average at 855.66.

Two Additional Contestants Named for Saugerties Pageant

KATHLEEN M. PRITCHITT

VIRGINIA M. STAY

Two additional contestants in this year's Miss Saugerties Pageant scheduled Saturday, Sept. 19 at 8:30 p. m. in Saugerties High School auditorium brings the total now to 10.

The latest entries are Kathleen Melody Pritchitt of Flatbush, this year's Kingston Newspaper Guild Page One Queen and Virginia M. Stay of Finger Street.

Miss Pritchitt is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Pritchitt. Her talent will be tap dancing. She was a June graduate of Saugerties High and attended Mary Bruce School of Dance.

The Kingston newsmen's queen is employed as an educational secretary at Mt. Marion School and her leisure time activities include swimming, skiing, dancing, sewing and volleyball.

She would like to further her education at New Paltz State University and hopes to become an elementary school teacher.

Miss Stay is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman W. Stay Jr., of 16 Finger Street. She also graduated in June and majored in art.

She is employed for the summer at Malden Hot Shoppe and stands five feet, five inches, has brown hair and blue eyes.

Her hobbies include sewing, painting, cooking, horseback riding and bowling. While at school she belonged to Sigma, Bowling and Camera Clubs.

A future ambition is to become an interior decorator and she would like to further her education at Parson's School of Art and Design.

Alfred R. MacMullen, chairman of the ticket committee announced that those wishing to see the pageant should select reserved seats now at the Chamber office in the Amrod Building, Partition Street. The office is open from 10 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Patron and other tickets must be exchanged for reserved seat tickets. All seats are reserved. Only seat tickets will be honored at the door, he said.

One Vote Counts, Is Basis of LWV Registration Push

The theory that one vote counts is the basis for the League of Women Voters 1964 nonpartisan register and vote drive.

By way of illustration, Mrs. Charles Steele, president of the Provisional League of Women Voters of Saugerties, pointed out that the late President Kennedy's national plurality in 1960 was less than one vote per precinct. She went on to say that in New York State one vote in each of the 11,139 election districts elected the Governor in 1954. He won by 11,125 votes.

To drive home the 1964 slogan of "Your Vote Makes a Difference," Leagues of Women Voters in virtually every state supplied examples of close local and/or state elections for use in the Library USA exhibit at the U.S. Pavilion at New York World's Fair.

Visitors request cards from their states which give voting qualifications and requirements and illustrations of elections in which only a few votes made a difference.

Contributing to the country's poor voting record, the League president said, are mostly non-voters who are eligible to vote, but simply do not make the effort. They do not believe action individually on their part can make any difference. There is no motivation and thus they do not vote, she said.

The estimated 40 million Americans of voting age who are not registered, Mrs. Steele said, will give up their right to vote in November unless they see that their names are on the books. In New York State registration is October 3 and October 10.

Local Goldwater Headquarters Will Open on Friday

Saugerties Headquarters of the Ulster County for Goldwater-Miller Committee will open Friday 7 p. m. with ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

The main speakers will be Robert Baron, chairman of the Committee, and Peter Williams, Town of Saugerties supervisor. Everyone is invited to attend.

The headquarters is located at 213 Main Street, near Partition, diagonally across from the Orpheum Theatre.

Mrs. William J. Everts, local chairman, stated, "The response to the call for volunteers in setting up the headquarters has been most gratifying. The work is being done through the efforts of many people who are contributing their time, talents and material."

Recent Graduate

Airman Third Class Francis L. Helke Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Helke of South Partition Street, Saugerties, has graduated from the technical training course for U. S. Air Force supply specialists at Amarillo AFB, Tex.

Airman Helke, who was trained to use mechanized Air Force Systems Command (AFSC) unit at Kirtland AFB, N. M. His unit supports the AFSC mission of research, development and testing of Air Force planes and missile systems.

The airman is a graduate of Saugerties Central High School.

Local Rosarians Announce Several Future Projects

The annual card and social party, the Living Rosary, and the start of a parish library were among the plans outlined during the opening session of St. Mary of the Snow Rosary Society last week in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Joan Staudiker and Mrs. Carolyn Parenti were announced as co-chairmen of the card party Wednesday, Oct. 28, starting at 8 p. m. An innovation for this the main fund raiser of the society, will be the separation of the card players in the cafeteria and the other players in the school hall.

Help is needed on all committees: Set-up, workers and clean-up. Each member is requested to donate a cake for refreshments, and a new or almost new prize to the prize chairman, Mrs Helen Keeley.

Rosarians will pay homage to the Blessed Mother during a Living Rosary on her feast of the Most Holy Rosary, Wednesday, Oct. 7, with a candlelight procession starting at 8 p. m. in the church. Chapel veils will be provided for the participants. Sixty ladies are needed. To date, 30 are signed up, according to Mrs. Isabel DeCelle, in charge. Assisting the chairman will be Mrs. Joan Hopf and Mrs. Ginger Curl. Any lady in the parish who would care to take part is asked to please contact the chairman.

A parish library will be started at the next meeting of the Rosarians. Mrs. Gloria Laird explained that the library will rely on donations of fiction and non-fiction books by Catholic authors until resources are available to purchase some. Back issues of Catholic periodicals would also be appreciated. The library will only be open during the meetings of the Rosary or during the meetings of any other parish society interested in availing themselves of this source of inspiration, stated the chairman. No charge will be made to those borrowing the books. Any person having a suitable book may bring it to the next meeting or may contact Mrs. Laird in Kings Village.

President Mrs. Peggy Wilsey announced her chairmen for the year as follows: refreshments, Mrs. Dorothy Casal and Mrs. Marge Tynan; sunshine, Mrs. Eleanor Naccarrata; mission, Mrs. Dorothy Corea; program, Mrs. Gloria Laird; Special award, Mrs. Agnes Altenau; baby sitting (during 10 a. m. Sunday Masses), Mrs. Rita Connor; welcoming, Mrs. Jean Seither, assisted by Mrs. Ann Vosdik, Mrs. Lorraine Wagner, Mrs. Joan Turek and Mrs. Helen Keeley.

A scrap book is now being prepared by Mmes. Mary and Catherine Rightmeyer. Included will be articles pertaining to the society, pictures of events and all committee reports on various functions for future reference and guidance for new chairmen and officers. It will be available for any members' use.

Mrs. Connor is in need of volunteers for the Sunday nursery. Each week, one Rosarian is in charge, assisted by two eighth grade girls. Mrs. Connor urged the support of the entire membership to spare 45 minutes of time. She explained that the more Rosarians on the list, the less frequent are the assigned days.

Rosary candles and pins will soon be available for purchase, according to the president.

Guests present at the meeting included the Mmes. Beverly Howard, Gloria Boyle, Ginger Curl, Ena Gaffney, Cathy Gilbane, and the return of a former member, Mrs. Joan Bannon, who has relocated back to Saugerties.

An hour long colored slide presentation of the main features at the N. Y. World's Fair was narrated by Arthur J. Roy, a representative of the N. Y. Telephone Co.

Serving on the refreshment committee were the Mmes Carolyn Parenti, Corrine Van Benschoten, Marion Garzione and Joan Bannon.

Saugerties Board Favors Widening Of Russell Street

Reports of completed projects, a plan to widen Russell Street, and closing of summer facilities were all included in a broad agenda at Tuesday night's Saugerties Village Board meeting.

The board decided that while the Russell Street pavement was broken due to the replacement of water mains, it would be an appropriate time to widen the thoroughfare.

To Widen Street

The street department under William Voerg, superintendent of public works will attempt to move the curbs back on either side of the street. Voerg will contact residents on the street for permission to cut the curbs back. The work of installing new water mains is completed.

Trustee Arthur D. York reported the library roof damaged by storm has been repaired by Ulster Roofing and that the new furnace in the municipal building had been installed by George L. Kerbert Inc.

Trustee Jerome Daley, parks and playgrounds commissioner said the bathing beach and Lions Playground would be officially closed today.

A section of fence at the beach will be removed to accommodate boat owners removing craft for the winter.

Mayor William Ziegler announced that the village has deposited $75,000 in an interest-bearing account at Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company. The open-time account for 90 days will bear 3½ per cent interest. The village will also deposit water department funds for interest accrual.

Closed Sunday Nighas

The board voted to close the municipal auditorium to recreational activities on Sunday nights.

Village Clerk James Gage has been authorized to attend a training conference for municipal officers and village clerks in Albany from Sept. 28 to 30.

The board approved a request from Saugerties CYO for use of the auditorium on Tuesday nights and Saturday afternoons.

Trustee William Schaffer, fire commissioner, reported fire officers of the village met recently and made plans for the observance of Fire Prevention Week in October.

They plan to hold open house at the fire station on Partition Street when the public may view the fire apparatus and equipment and the new heating furnace.

Trustee Robert Moser, police commissioner reported that Police Chief Harold Mills and officer Vickery recently attended FBI School at Bear Mountain.

A new political club recently formed in the Town of Saugerties, was chartered by the Department of State of the State of New York as the Town of Saugerties Republican Club, Inc.

At its organizational meeting last week the following officers were elected: President, Louis P. Francello; vice president, George Turner; secretary, Sally R. Brinnier; and treasurer, Frank Hommell.

The purposes of the club are: to teach and to promulgate the principles of true Americanism; to advocate the principles of political and social conduct for which the Republican Party stands; and to carry on and encourage the work of naturalization and Americanization of persons of foreign birth.

The club plans to hold a dinner sometime in October, open to the public and will present various Republican candidates for office.

Life Insurance Issues Good Long-Term Stocks

Q) "I have read of large capital gains made in life insurance stocks during the past 14 years. I could not find these stocks mentioned on either the New York or American Exchange. Why is this? Since your investment analyses seemed aimed at security, growth and fair return, will you please comment on these stocks?"

S. B.

A) With pleasure. Life insurance stocks are never listed, but are traded over the counter.

These issues certainly offer security, growth but a very low current return. They increase in value largely because of their usual practice of paying at intervals large stock dividends, which build up your holdings as the life companies capitalize their growth.

If you do not need current income, if you can be patient and hold over a period of years when life stocks as a group may do little or nothing in the way of upside movement — then I think you should buy and hold some in the expectation of long-term capital enhancement.

Q) "I am 60 years old and have been on disability for four years. I cannot return to work. I have $20,000 which I wish to invest for income. What is your opinion of American Radiator, Continental Mortgage, First Charter Financial, Chock Full O' Nuts, Sinclair Oil?"

J. G.

A) I am sincerely sorry about your disability.

Of the stocks you mention, I would buy for income purposes Continental Mortgage, yielding 5.8 per cent. This is a Massachusetts real estate investment trust, not seasoned, but with good sponsorship and rising earnings since 1961, when it was incorporated.

I would also buy Sinclair Oil for income. Chock Full O' Nuts yields 3.3 per cent which seems too low for you. First Charter Financial pays no cash dividend. American Standard is too subject to wide variation in earnings.

In place of these three, I suggest Libby-Owens-Ford Glass yielding 5 per cent, and United Gas, selling on a 4.6 basis.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Plans $75,000 Hangar at Port In Dutchess Co.

Frederic H. Bontecou Jr., of Millbrook, has filed an application with the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors seeking permission to construct a $75,000 hangar and operate a flying school at the county airport in New Hackensack.

Supervisor Thomas D. Mahar (D-Poughkeepsie) chairman of the Board of Supervisors, said the application will be referred to the Board.

Albert D. Richard, chairman of the county Airport Commission, was quoted as saying, "It would be a good move for Dutchess County and the Airport."

Slated for Hudson Term

Slated for the September term of Supreme Court which was to convene Tuesday in Hudson, was an action by Water Consultant Engineer Charles J. Barrow Jr., of Albany against the City of Hudson for services rendered. Barrow's lawsuit stems from services rendered in 1962 when he was consultant engineer during emergency pumping operations at Power Springs. The Hudson Common Council refused to pay the bill.

and considered program of tax reduction. I will also ask that Congress stop the wild spending spree begun by this administration."

Goldwater contended it is possible to cut income taxes five per cent a year for five years and, with a growing economy, still keep the budget in balance.

"If spending is held in check — and, believe me, a Republican administration will hold it in check — we can cut taxes and still balance revenue against spending" he said.

His plan, Goldwater insisted, is a "properly adjusted tax reduction," not at all like the one proposed by the late President Kennedy, which Goldwater voted against.

Says Other Cut Reckless

Goldwater's explanation: "I opposed that tax cut and would do so again under the same circumstances. That reckless cut was not intended as a return to responsible fiscal policy, designed to put a brake on endless growth of spending by the centralized bureaucracy.

Goldwater threw in a couple of asides that weren't in his prepared text.

Of President Johnson, he said: "He's trying to sweep Viet Nam under the rug and he can't get it there for Bobby Baker and Billy Sol Estes."

At one point he asked: "Why are so many here tonight? You and all Americans know that something is wrong. You know it's going to take a good housecleaning to get it straight."

He was interrupted by applause 57 times during his 39-minute speech.

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc.

USING PARENTS' FIRST NAME IS RATHER BOORISH

Q—My sister has two children, 5 and 7. They have taken to calling their mother and father by first names and my sister does absolutely nothing to correct them. This not only sounds disrespectful but makes the children seem ill-bred. She sees nothing wrong in it and in her opinion it suggests a close relationship between parents and children.

A—I personally dislike this practice very much and in my opinion there is no higher privilege than to be called "mother" and "father." However, if your sister and her husband have no objection to their children calling them by their first names, that is entirely their concern.

• • •

Accepting Hope Chest From Boy

Q—Some of my granddaughter's friends accept hope chests for birthday and Christmas presents from boys with whom thew are merely "going steady." I say it is not proper until a man and girl are engaged.

A—A hope chest is properly given by the girl's parents and not by a boy whether she is engaged or not.

• • •

Doctor's Signature

Q—My employer is a doctor and he signs all letters John Smith, M.D. Isn't the M.D. unnecessary and in bad form?

A—On his office paper which should have his name and degree imprinted on it, he signs John Smith. When writing to strangers who do not know he is a doctor, he signs his name John Smith, M.D.

• • •

Parents Unwilling to Announce

Q: What is the proper procedure for announcing an engagement when the girl's parents are unwilling to do so and there is no one else in her family who could make the announcement? Would it be out of order for the man's family to announce it?

A: The announcement in such a case would be made impersonally in this way. The engagement of Miss Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, is announced to Mr. Robert Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown.

• • •

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby.' To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

On Onteora Entertainment Bill October 12

MATA AND HARI

Mata and Hari, long time concert favorites and now a top dance team on television, come to the Onteora Central School on Monday, Oct. 12, in a program titled "The World in Pantomine." Their performance in Boiceville, N. Y. at 8:30 p. m. will be under the auspices of the non-profit Onteora Districts Arts Council on the Arts.

Ruth Landesman and Earl Friant, co-chairmen of the local Council, recently noted that "this is the first time our Council has taken the opportunity to bring satirical dance to the community. We believe that doing so is another step in meeting our goal—'to insure that the role of the Arts in our community will continue to grow and play a vital part in the total educational experience of our citizens.'"

As satirist and mimes, Mata and Hari lead the dance field. Over the years they have thrilled audiences throughout the world with their pantomime stories touched with irony, humor and pathos. All their dances are their own creations; their repertoire consists of at least 40 different dances and characterizations, and they continually work on new ideas.

The programs designed for the eye, the ear and the imagination, Mata and Hari have been delighting audiences ever since their American debut in the Broadway musical, "The Straw Hat Revue."

The Swiss-born dancers turned to the concert stage in 1947 and have made nation-wide tours almost every year since. On their current tour, they visited more than 75 American and Canadian cities.

Tickets should be obtained as soon as possible from Bill Landesman, Kingston; Peter Rakov, Ginger Anderson, Jack Burton, Woodstock; Sam and Alice Friedman, Ashokan; Wesley John, West Shokan; Earl Friant, Ruth Landesman, Phoenicia; Joy Connaughton, Krumville and Onteora Central School, and Mrs. James Levins, West Hurley. Mail orders will be filled if a check is sent to the Onteora District Arts Council, c/o Mrs. Gordon Anderson, Woodstock.

Art Institute Will Host Area School Groups

The Albany Institute of History and Art will be host to a group of area officials and officials of the New York State Council on the Arts, as well as school superintendents and instructors in the public schools on Sunday, Sept. 20, at the institute.

The occasion is the official opening of the exhibition The Ancient World with much material on loan from the Metropolitan Museum of Art collections of the Near East and Egyptian material.

The exhibit was made possible by the New York State Council on the Arts which gave the Institute a grant of $6,000 in order to build cases, install lights and clear up the clutter of pipes in the ceiling of the area formerly called the Children's Gallery. This has been done and the Metrpolitan Museum ancient Mediterranean material installed. William Hull, Assistant Director of the Council on the Arts; John McFadyen, then Director of the Council; Lewis Swyer, then a member of the Council were responsible for the Council grant to the Institute.

Working with the curators of the Metropolitan Museum of Arts was Jacob Hotchkiss, special research consultant for the Albany Institute for two summers, who reported to the Board of Directors of the Institute that this exhibition will contribute greatly to students' understanding of man's history prior to the beginning of the Middle Ages. This display is a reasonably comprehensive exhibit of the ancient Mediterranean world, from whence Western Civilization has sprung. The civilizations are Sumer, Akkad, Babylonia, Assyria, Persia, Cypress, Greece, Etruria, and Rome. It will be on display for at least two years.

Drama Classes For Children Set By Arts Group

The Performing Arts of Woodstock has begun its survey for the information it needs to complete 1964-65 plans for a program of children's drama classes. The survey is being made through questionnaires conveniently distributed so that everyone interested in such a program may readily supply his share of the needed information.

Questionnaires may be obtained at the following places: Bearsville Store, Bonnie's Shop, Catskill Book and Record Shop, Langer's Pharmacy and the Woodstock Library.

Mrs. Marie Hutchinson of the Maverick Road has offered to handle questionnaires and their return in the Maverick area; and Eda Crist in the area of her home, 58 Glasco Turnpike.

It is hoped that members of the former P-TA School, to whom questionnaires were mailed, will find these places convenient for their returns. Since the survey ends Sept. 19, prompt responses will be greatly appreciated.

Each questionnaire states the Performing Arts' plans for the drama classes. Classes would be conducted somewhat as the P-TA School drama classes were, with Mrs. Eda Crist again serving as instructor. The classes, each one and one half hours long, will be held on Saturdays in a centrally located place in Woodstock, starting Oct. 3. There is a nominal tuition fee for the 12 classes to cover insurance and classroom rental and special rates for families with more than one child. Scholarships would be available. Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Crist.

All members and interested are cordially invited to atend the annual fall Woodstock League of Women Voters Membership Tea on Monday, Sept. 14, at 8 p. m. at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church in Woodstock.

Safety Slogans Not the Cureall

Before every long holiday weekend, radio and press repeat the National Safety Council's slogans—"Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own." This has gone on for years. We ought to realize by this time that this method of approach is about as effective as the bleating of sheep.

Why?

Because to most of us, the National Safety Council has no vital, effective identity. If we think about it at all, we realize that somewhere, there is an office. Probably it has desks, some chairs, some filing cases, a telephone. A vague female performs various duties, receptionist, typist, filing clerk. The police and the press send in reports, and these are filed. Sometimes a few men meet and discuss things. The Council issues a report — and admonitions. These are always the same admonitions, differently worded. Not very effective, is it? Somehow, one almost gets the impression they couldn't care less. But it's their job to make us understand the tragedy and the misery and the waste that follow a highway fatality.

Why is it so hard for them to get under our thick skins? Why are we so apathetic and callous and unrealistic about our problem? It is our problem. We can't make it go away by ignoring it. If we don's care enough to put purposeful thought and energy into solving our problem, who will? It's up to us.

GE, Union Agree On Meetings to Avoid a Strike

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—General Electric Co. and the International Union of Electrical Workers have agreed to begin continuous meetings Friday in an effort to avoid a strike at GE's plant here.

The company and union Local 301 agreed Tuesday to meet in response to pleas from federal mediators.

"The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has requested us to meet with the company Friday and we have decided to do so," John Shambo, Local 301 president, said Tuesday night.

H. J. Parker, the GE bargaining representative, replying to the federal request, said in a telegram, "...The General Electric Co. stands ready to resume bargaining at your earliest convenience..."

The union has threatened to strike if necessary to prevent the company from eliminating piece-work rates at the Schenectady plant.

The union's General Electric Conference Board last week said that, if Local 301 "is forced to strike," it would call for a strike at all GE plants throughout the country where the union has members.

About one-third of the Schenectady plant's 9,000 workers had been paid on an incentive, or piece-work basis until the company sought to place them on a straight hourly basis.

Piece - work employes had been averaging $4.36 per hour, compared with the average $2.-91 straight hourly rate for other employes.

Smart Business Strategy

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — One of the first businessmen to arrive at the 1964 Iowa State Fair was a 12-year-old lad, who began his fourth year as a shoe-shine boy at the exposition.

He approaches fair visitors and offers to shine their shoes for a nickel. And when they ask him why he charges so little, he explains:

"If I tell a man I'll shine his shoes for a nickel he says 'go ahead,' and he usually gives me a quarter or at least a dime. But if I tell him a shine is 15 cents or a quarter he won't even let me get started."

South's Desperate Discards Win

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Fred Karpin's book on strategy at trick one is replete with examples of falsecard plays.

Since his book concerns itself only with play, Fred does not point out that South would have been far better advised to have bid three no-trump instead of three spades. A three no-trump contract would have presented no problems at all on play.

Opening lead—♥ A

Four spades did not present much of a problem either. West was a fairly optimistic bidder, but not to the extent of being foolhardy. Hence, after West rebid hearts in the face of his partner's failure to respond to a one-heart opening and South noted that the only high cards West could have were the ace-queen of hearts and ace-jack of clubs, it was apparent to South that West had a six-card heart suit.

It was equally apparent that West's normal play would be to continue hearts and give his partner a ruff. After that, a club return would put West in to give East a second ruff.

Desperate measures were necessary and South false-carded with the king of hearts.

West shifted to the ace of clubs, and after East played the three, South false-carded again with the ten spot. He wanted to make sure that West would be unable to read his partner's three spot as his lowest card.

Perhaps these plays should not have fooled West, but they did and West continued clubs, whereupon South ran off the rest of the tricks.

Donovan Scores Boycott Plans of Parent Groups

NEW YORK (AP)—Last winter Negro leaders ran boycotts of New York City's public schools. Now white parent groups threaten one for school opening, next Monday and Tuesday.

At issue are plans of the board of education to improve racial balance in school enrollments.

The Negro leaders were protesting that proposals at that time did not go far enough fast enough.

The white parent groups, insisting they are for integration, oppose one method the board plans to use—compulsory busing of pupils from a few mostly Negro schools to mostly white schools nearby and vice versa.

Both major party candidates for the U.S. Senate from New York have opposed such compulsory busing over long distances.

Democrat Robert F. Kennedy, former U.S. attorney general, expressed his opposition Tuesday in Buffalo, N. Y., where he was campaigning. He added, however, that he opposes school boycotts.

Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating clarified an earlier statement by saying his opposition did not apply to any specific plan. Neither did Kennedy's.

And neither explained how long "long distance" busing would be.

James B. Donovan, president of the board of education, said at a news conference: "They must be talking about programs in other cities, in the program for New York there is no long-distance busing involved.

"Beyond that, I think it would be most regrettable if an educational matter like this were to become involved in a partisan political campaign."

Donovan denounced the boycott plans of the white parent groups, the Parents and Taxpayers coordinating council and the Joint Council for Better Education.

"Whether used by a minority or a majority," he said, "a school boycott may induce great numbers of youngsters to take a holiday from school, but is a tragic failure in terms of achieving progress."

TAKES RFK POST—Under Federal law, Deputy Attorney General Nicholas D. Katzenbach becomes acting attorney general when the top job becomes vacant. Katzenbach takes over until a successor to resigned Robert F. Kennedy is appointed, probably after the November elections.

May Modernize Hudson Plant of Universal Atlas

Modernization of the Universal Atlas Cement Division of United States Steel plant in Hudson, is under consideration, a corporation spokesman said yesterday. He noted that something definite might be announced in the near future.

A high capacity kiln was constructed at the Hudson plant south of the city several years ago. There are other type kilns at the plant and indication has been given that future modernization would be directed toward this production operation.

River shipping facilities were expanded recently with the Hudson plant now playing an important part in increased use of water transportation to terminals at Long Island, Newark, Boston and other East Coast ports.

Mercury Lights Go On at Rip's Span

New mercury lights installed on the Rip Van Winkle Bridge were turned on for the first time last weekend, it was announced by Dr. John L. Edwards, Hudson, and Milton [illegible] kill, members of the State Bridge Authority.

All four bridges under the authority, are now equipped with modern lighting facilities.

The Catskill bridge has been open since 1935 and the old incandescent type lamps that have been in use since that time are outdated. The new lights will afford better lighting conditions for the traveling public, officials said.

Aussie Net Coach is Worried About Form of Davis Cup Team

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The old fox, Harry Hopman, may be playing it sly but he says he's worried over the form of the Australian Davis Cup team, with the Challenge Round less than three weeks away.

"Emerson (Roy Emerson, the team's No. 1 player) is out of touch and Fred Stolle is not playing well," the veteran Aussie captain said today.

"After this tournament, I think I'll let the boys go into New York and just have a good time. They have had a lot of tennis. Maybe it will relax them some and get rid of this staleness," he added.

Hopman was concerned by the close shave Tuesday of his No. 2 ace, Stolle, who fell two sets back and was once within two points of elimination in his match with Cliff Drysdale of South Africa.

Stolle finally pulled the match out after a marathon struggle 4-6, 6-8, 7-5, 6-2, 6-2. But he did little to bolster Australian hopes of recapturing the big silver bowl in the Challenge Round against the United States at Cleveland Sept. 25-27.

Stolle was the only favorite to encounter much difficulty as both the men's and women's divisions reached the fourth round, with 16 players left in each.

In featured matches today Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., seeded No. 2, played his Davis Cup captain, 41-year-old Vic Seixas, and Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., No. 4, faced a formidable rival in Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y.

Not Up to Par

Ralston still didn't look up to standard in his 8-6, 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Crawford Henry of Atlanta. On the other hand, Seixas bounced around like a teen-ager and showed the class that won him the U.S. and Wimbledon crowns in beating Shiv Misra of India 7-5, 6-2, 6-4.

Stolle played one of the secondary members of the Australian delegation, Bill Bowrey. Emerson opposed Torben Ulrich, the bearded Dane.

Rafael Osuna, the nimble-footed Mexican who surprised everybody by winning the title last year, bounced back into the title picture by crushing Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 6-1, 6-2. He meets Cliff Richey of Dallas.

Maria Bueno of Brazil and Margaret Smith of Australia, the Nos. 1 and 2 seeds in the women's division, had dangerous fourth round opponents.

Miss Bueno faced Judy Tegart of Australia and Miss Smith played Karen Hantze Susman, winner at Wimbledon two years ago.

Miss Smith was impressive Tuesday in whipping Belmar Gunderson of St. Paul, Minn., 6-1, 6-0. Miss Bueno was idle.

Schwark Attends Annual Parley Trout Unlimited

Clifford Schwark will represent the Catskill Mountain Chapter of Trout Unlimited at the organization's annual convention at Aspen, Col., Sept. 11-13.

The three-day convention will be capped by a banquet at which Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall will speak. Trout Unlimited will also make its annual trout conservation award at the dinner.

Leading trout administrators, scientists, anglers and writers will gather at Aspen for the nation's famous trout conservation organization. Among the guests will be Roderick Haig-Brown, noted angler-author from British Columbia; Dr. Albert S. Hazzard, dean of American trout scientists; Ted Trueblood, Field and Stream magazine; and Joe Brooks, internationally known author and angler.

The future of wild trout fishing is one of the major items on the agenda. The convention will be held in connection with a seminar at the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies, which precedes the meeting. The seminar topic is, "America's Diminishing Trout Resources and the Population Explosion."

Fitz Has Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the hardy, old retired trainer, was reported in good condition early today after undergoing an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night.

The 90-year-old dean of thoroughbred race horse trainers, who retired last year, was expected to remain in a Jackson Heights hospital for a week or more.

Quarterback Club Resumes at Point

WEST POINT—Army football followers are again invited to attend the weekly Wednesday Quarterback Club meetings at West Point's Thayer Hall south auditorium.

The first meeting of the year will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 16 at 8 p. m., with the opening game with The Citadel the subject for discussion.

Sixty minutes of activity, planned right from the opening whistle at 8 o'clock to the final klaxon at 9 p. m., will cover past performances and future predictions.

Coach Paul Dietzel will host the weekly affair. He will open with films of last week's action, the practice sessions at Camp Buckner the first week. From then on, films of Army's last opponent will be shown.

A panel of grid experts will participate in a question and answer period, at which time the audience will be invited to supply the questions.

A scouting report on Army's next opponent, some of it through game films of recent contests, will conclude the meeting.

65 Candidates Practicing for Sept. 19 Opener

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Despite the fact he has only two starters returning from last season, Kingston High Coach Bill Hurley is hopeful of improvement over the disappointing 2-5-1 record posted by the '63 club.

In the first place, Hurley has a young squad with only five seniors listed among those who expect to see the most action.

The KHS coach also feels there is more speed in the backfield, though he doesn't feel the passing will be as good as last season with star quarterback Paul Gruner among one of the missing regulars. Gruner is now a freshman at the University of Connecticut.

In addition to Gruner, backfield starters who have departed via graduation are fullback Tom Auringer and halfbacks Ted Stroter and Oscar Palmer. Auringer will be missed, not only for his running ability but for his hard nosed football.

Ends Jim Plunket and John Sexton, tackle Wayne Platte, guard Bob Hanley and center Ed Burns are no longer with the club, all of them having graduated in June.

Returning regulars include Mike Burns, a tackle last season but switched to end and Ed Mills, switched from guard to tackle this time around.

Joe Schabot, who saw service as a fullback, returns and is expected to see heavy duty service. Other backfield possibilities include Dan McGrane, a reserve quarterback; Gene Rios, Lou Perry and Eli Basch, all jayvee standouts and Bill Knox, a freshman ace.

In addition to Mike Burns, top prospects at end inclued Brian Bach, Pete Bonavita and Roger Ohlson, all jayvee performers moving up and Mickey Bush, a newcomer.

Mills and Jack Schatzel, a reserve last season, head the tackles with Gerard Boggs, moving up from the jayvees, another candidate.

Brooke Jenkins, a reserve guard in '63, has returned. Joe Darwak, a reserve end, has been switched to guard. Other prospects are Abe VanSteenburgh and Sam Fratoni, up from jayvee and Dan Fiore, who didn't play last season.

Center will be manned by Bill Buddenhagen, a jayvee performer and Frank DeLuca, up from the frosh.

The only seniors of this group are Schabot, McGrane, Burns, Mills and Darwak. All the others figure to be back next season.

Hurley has been putting 65 candidates for the jayvee and varsity through their pre-season drills. Others are expected to report today, the opening session of school.

Though the head coach hopes for improvement, he also feels the opponents will be better than before. As usual, the schedule is rugged. White Plains, a Westchester County powerhouse, has been dropped but New Rochelle, another ranking power in Westchester, has been added.

The first game is slated two weeks from Saturday, at Suffern. Included in the schedule are home night engagements with Albany, Mont Pleasant and Port Jervis and an afternoon home game with Poughkeepsie. The road schedule finds the Maroon playing at New Rochelle and Middletown, in addition to Suffern in the afternoon and the traditional morning game with Newburgh Free Academy on Thanksgiving.

The schedule:

Date	Opp.	Where
Sept. 19	Suffern	Away,	1:30
Sept. 25	Albany	Home,	7:30
Oct. 3	N. Rochelle	Away	1:30
Oct. 10	*Po'Keepsie	Home,	1:30
Oct. 16	*Port Jervis	Home,	8:00
Oct. 23	Mt. Pleasant	Home,	7:30
Nov. 7	Middletown	Away,	1:30
Nov. 26	*Newburgh	Away,	11:00

Yankees Are Not Being Counted Out Yet

Nip Twins, 2-1 To Come Within Game of Lead

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League pennant contenders have gone through four fifths, but each day makes it more difficult for one of them to break out the champagne.

With less than one-fifth of the season remaining, Baltimore leads the see-saw battle, but Chicago is only one-half game behind and New York is just one game back. Only six percentage points separate the Orioles from the Yankees.

The race became the tightest it's been since Aug. 5 when the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Tuesday night.

Only 18 days ago, even many of the most astute baseball observers were counting out the Yankees. They were in third place then, too, but they were 5½ games from the top.

Since that time, they have won 12, the last five in a row, and lost just four. In the same period, the Orioles won eight of 17 while the White Sox were 9-10.

Two More Games

The Yankees now have two more games remaining than the Orioles —25 to 23 — and are even in losses. In other words, if the Yankees win their two extra games, they would have the same record as Baltimore.

The White Sox, on the other hand, have 20 games left and have lost two more games than the other contenders, putting them at a statistical disadvantage.

None of the teams plays each other the rest of the season. That is, unless they meet in a playoff.

The Yankees nosed out Minnesota on Elston Howard's run-scoring single in the seventh inning. Roger Maris started the rally with a double and eventually reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Joe Pepitone. Howard brought him home with a single to center field.

Maris also figured in the Yankees' first-inning run. He singled Tony Kubek to third from where he scored on Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. The Twins tied it in their half of the first on singles by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and a pair of force plays.

Pascual Beaten

Rookie right-hander Mel Stottlemyre scattered nine hits for his fifth victory against two defeats. Camilo Pascual suffered his 11th setback in 24 decisions.

In the National League's only game, Los Angeles nipped first-place Philadelphia 3-2 on run-scoring doubles by Jim Gilliam and John Roseboro in the first inning.

Maury Wills started the first with a single and stole second. Gilliam doubled in Wills and went to third as Willie Davis singled. Both runners then came home on Roseboro's double.

The Phillies scored a run in the second on a sacrifice fly by Gus Triandos and one in the seventh on Ruben Amaro's single following a double by Triandos.

Newkirk Fires 65 for Record At Canandaigua

William Newkirk, former Kingston resident who is now physical education director and social studies instructor in the Canandaigua school system, continued to be a "hot" golfer. While in the Kingston area "Bill" was a real contender on the golf course.

Recently he set a course record at the Canandaigua Country Club course when he fired a 31-34 for a sparkling 65 over the course.

The old record was 64, but that was over the much shorter, former layout so the 65 fired by Newkirk on August 31, is the club record according to club pro Jim Commisso.

The new record was set during the club championship tournament in the second round when Tommy Flynn fired a very respectable 37 in the first nine holes only to find himself six down to Bill Newkirk when Newkirk came through with a spectacular 32. Newkirk had won the opening round and then went on to the third round after winning the second round by the sparkling 65.

Just prior to his breaking the course record Newkirk had been the fortunate golfer to make a hole in one.

Settle Five Suits

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Five suits were settled out of court Tuesday involving five former University of Oklahoma athletes who claimed they were libeled by True magazine article on use of pep pills.

The settlements were disclosed by attorneys who said there was an agreement not to name the amounts.

The five were Carl Dodd, Lyle Burris, Doyle and Steve Jennings and David Rolle.

Sale of Yanks to CBS May be Calculated Risk

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick has been advised by his attorneys that baseball would be taking a "calculated risk" of a possible antitrust suit if the American League club owners formally approve the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The league club owners, with their representatives, met with President Joe Cronin and a battery of lawyers today to vote on the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to CBS for $11,200,000 last month.

The vote of eight of the 10 owners is needed for approval.

Frick, from his home in Scarsdale, N.Y., declined to comment on the report given exclusively to the Associated Press.

According to the informant, attorneys Paul Porter of the commissioner's office and Lou Carroll of the National League advised Frick that "there was inherent danger" in welcoming a public service such as CBS into the inner confines of baseball.

"There could be a danger of antitrust suits," Frick was advised. "We think there is a calculated risk."

At the time of the sale, last Aug. 14, a storm of criticism, both from people in government as well as in baseball, developed over the entry of the television and radio networks into big league ownership. Congressmen promised they would press for a closer scrutiny into baseball's exemption from antitrust laws.

Only Dissenters

Owners Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics and Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox, the only dissenters in a telegraphic vote of the league club owners to approve the sale, charged that such a vote was contrary to the league's constitution and demanded a formal meeting.

In this way they were surprisingly supported by co-owner Dan Topping of the Yankees who said he felt it was in the best interest of the league that such a meeting be held.

Another supporter was Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president, who stated he felt it imperative that whatever action is necessary be taken to set the record straight.

Stanton maintained that the network had entered the transaction "in a spirit of good will and motivated by genuine and constructive interest in the future of baseball." He added that before signing the contract, CBS officials had been assured by the American and its legal counsel that the process by which the sale was made satisfied all legal requirements.

Arnie Still Leads

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — The $110,743 winnings of Arnold Palmer kept him ahead in the Professional Golfers' Association dollar standings today.

Palmer's total came from 22 tournaments. Jack Nicklaus, who played in 21 tournaments, was second with $101,917, followed by Tony Lema with $72,555.

Hrdlicka Hurt, Union Back May Miss Full Season

Halfback Al Hrdlicka, former Saugerties High star and Union College's third highest scorer in 1963, was placed on the injury list Tuesday and feared lost for the entire 1964 football season.

Tackled viciously Saturday in a scrimmage session on the school field, Hrdlicka had his knee placed in a cast.

A 5-11, 170-pound junior, Hrdlicka had impressed first year coach George Flood before he was injured.

During his sophomore year, Hrdlicka scored a pair of touchdowns and kicked two extra points for the Dutchmen. He also caught six passes for 23 yards and gained 99 yards in 33 carries.

Soccer Outlook Good at Point

WEST POINT—Seven of the teams that appeared on the 1963 slate, plus renewals with Seton Hall, Rutgers and Colgate, comprise the 10-match Army soccer schedule, announced this week by Col. Raymond P. Murphy, director of athletics.

Games with the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy and Yale, both on the road, launch the schedule. The Cadets' first home game is set for October 9, when Seton Hall University visits Clinton Field for an afternoon tussle.

Six of the games will be played at home. In addition to the inaugural with Seton Hall, contests with Maryland, West Chester State, Rutgers, Colgate and Navy have been scheduled. Army will close out the season November 21 against arch-rival Navy, the only team to register a decision over the Cadets in 1963.

Palone Confident

Army coach Joe Palone, who guided the Cadets to an outstanding 12-1 record a year ago, expects another banner season. The prospects are particularly bright with the return of ten key lettermen, plus the addition of three newcomers from last year's first undefeated Plebe squad. Depth and experience abound at every position.

The complete 1964 schedule follows:

Sept. 26, at U. S. Merchant Marine Academy; Oct. 3, at Yale; 9, Seton Hall; 17, Maryland; 24, at Rider College; 30, West Chester State; Nov. 4, Rutgers; 7, at Penn State; 13, Colgate; 21, Navy.

Notes From WIBC

The largest WIBC championship tournament ever to be held on the West Coast is anticipated for Portland, Ore., during next April and May. The event will open April 8 at the 20th Century Lanes. Reserved entry dates are Nov. 1 and the final entry closing date is Jan. 22, 1965.

Pro Football Cutdown

Oakland Hikes Flag Hopes With Acquistion of Cannon

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders were looking forward today to an all-out assault on the American Football League's Western Division throne after making two big scores in the circuit's final pre-season scramble for talent.

The Raiders, by acquiring both Billy Cannnon, former Heisman Trophy winner, and pass-catching star Bill Miller Tuesday, appear to have made the biggest gain in the wheeling and dealing that accompanied 11th-hour roster revisions in the American and National pro leagues.

With season openers only a few days away, AFL clubs trimmed their squads to the legal limit of 34 and NFL teams to 40 via waiver and trade routes.

Oakland figured in two of the more prominent transactions, obtaining Cannon from Houston in exchange for three players and luring Miller from Buffalo for a future draft choice.

Houston General Manager Carrol Martin said, "We're having our troubles with the line and that's what we were trying to do with this trade—get help up front."

Veteran guard Sonny Bishop was the key man in the three-for-one swap. Bob Jackson, a 6-foot-, 240-pound fullback, and flanker Bobie Craig completed the deal.

Top Pass Receivers

The addition of Miller, a second-year pro from Miami U., gives Oakland quarterback Tom Flores two of the AFL's leading pass-receivers. Art Powell second in the league with 73 receptions in 1963, is the other. Miller was fourth on the receiving list with 69, setting a Buffalo club record.

An NFL trade sent placekicker Lou Michaels, whose 26 field goals in 1962 set a league record, from Pittsburgh to Baltimore for linebacker Bill Saul and rookie back Marv Woodson, the Colts' No. 1 draft choice.

The Colts also traded 40-year-old specialist Jim Martin to Washington for a future draft pick while the Steelers obtained tackle Ray Mansfield from Philadelphia in a cash deal.

The New York Giants placed two injured regulars—linebacker Jerry Hillebrand and end Joe Walton and two rookies—on waivers.

Several clubs refused to announce the players cut. There is a 48-hour grace period in which further deals can be made and the maneuvering is likely to continue up to the deadline.

Saugerties Open Won by Peetoom

William Peetom outshot Merle Meggison, 23 to 19, in a shoot-off after they had tied with 47 out of 50 in the Open Trap Shoot sponsored by the Saugerties Fish and Game Club.

Peetoom compiled 23-24 and Meggison 24-23 in the regular competition to edge George Walker by one shot. Several others were tied at 45. Trophies were awarded to the two winners.

The leading scores:

William Peetoom, 23-24-47; Merle Meggison, 24-23-47; Robert Holsapple, 22-23-45; H. Smith, 22-23-45; A. Hochner, 23-22-45; W. Hochner, 24-21-65; L. Hochner, 25-20-45; R. Ramsey, 22-23-45; G. Gilsinger, 22-22-44; Ralph Longendyke, 20-22-42; Bob Schiavone, 22-20-42; S. Ribsomen, 21-21-42; John Cleveland, 22-20-42; Bud Sperl, 22-22-44; V. Berzal, 23-18-41; C. Sperl, 20-20-40; J. Overbaghm 21-19-40.

Merle Meggison broke 50 straight targets to capture the club trophy shoot. Skip Ribsomen was second with 46 targets. Twelve members competed.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET—Bonnie Duane (9th)
UPSET CHANCE—Afton Nibble (8th)

1. HAPPY CARDINAL has been victim of poor drives the last two times. Watch out here. WIL DIAMOND in the hands of a good reinsman. SOLICITOR'S KEY is always close.

2. RUNNYMEDE PRIS is due to pop. Might do it here. FLAUNT is hampered by the outside post. FRANSANN is capable of going all the way on top.

3. LEONARD'S DREAM might come home at a fat mutuel if he stays on gait. GUY BURKE is the class of the race but needs racing luck. PERFECT FREIGHT and Hodgins a good team.

4. UNIFORM WORLD highly thought of by owners. Needed a race. HAUGHTON entry looks second best and could win if top horse falters. BAY LEIGH a good show bet.

5. PINE HILL DOLL will be close and can win in the stretch. BRONZE EDEN is a good longshot possibility. Has met much better. VARIAN HANOVER always goes well from the pole.

6. PRINCE MAJESTY has been knocking at the door. Maybe now. ROSIE WICK seeks third straight but has moved up in class. SPARKLING STAR another Foxboro invader. Tab for the future.

7. HOBO JET had the worst of the last race and figures to be better tonight. CHRISTOPHER J. is consistently in the money. DUTCH CANDOIT needed a start after a long layoff.

8. JAFFE finally gets good post. Can win this with a well rated drive. AFTON NIBBLE is a sleeper. Is capable of upsetting at a fat mutuel. WILBUR BLACKSTONE seeks second straight.

9. BONNIE DUANE is best two-year-old filly on the grounds. The best bet. CONGRESS GLOVE shows improvement and is worth a play. ADIOS FANNY has been stopping in the stretch.

Turkey Shoot Set By Phoenicia FG

The Portal—and how and why it helps the Phoenicia area have one of the best trout fishing streams in the entire east—will be the subject of a speech by John Aalto of the New York Board of Water Supply at the Sept. 14 meeting of the Phoenicia Fish and Game Association, Inc.

Aalto will explore in detail the many sides of the portal debate among local anglers.

Plans for the annual Turkey Shoot on Oct. 11 have been announced by the Phoenicia club. Chuck Schwartz will again be the shoot chairman and promises the best shoot in the history of the club. Shooting starts at 10 a. m. at the clubhouse grounds and continues until dark. Light lunch and refreshments will be available all day.

More than 100 turkeys will be awarded and there will be special awards of $800, with $500 first prize in cash. The events include shotguns, big bore rifle shoots, .22 calibre target shoots, special archery events and other features. The public is invited to participate in the field day.

Injuries to Key Players Dim Grid Outlook For Army

WEST POINT — Just when Coach Paul Dietzel thought he had his three football units set for Army's opener against The Citadel at Michie Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 19, injuries to key players created a personnel chain reaction.

Two lettermen from the regular unit and pair of key backs in the replacement picture had been lost before the Cadets closed out their two-a-day training week at West Points Camp Buckner.

Senior tailback John Seymour suffered a shoulder separation in an intrasquad game Saturday afternoon. End Bill Sherrell, also a senior, had been out part of the week with what was thought to be a mild virus, but Saturday it was announced he had mononucleosis.

Both Seymour and Sherrell are two-year lettermen. Seymour was Armys leading ground gainer as a sophomore and had been used at both tailback and wingback during the 1963 season. He had been expected to be the main cog in the Cadet running attack this fall.

In addition, Seymour had been handling all of the punting chores during the workouts to date. Sherrell had played every varsity game for the past two years, the first season as a tackle and last fall as a tight end.

Tom Smith Withdraws

Fullback Tom Abraham and tailback Tom Smith are the other two missing players. Abraham, a spot player in the Cadet backfield, came up with a bad knee in Saturday's scrimmage. Smith had starred in his varsity debut against Boston University, but missed most of the 1963 season with an injured knee. The leg failed to respond after an operation last winter and Smith voluntarily withdrew from the Army team.

So, with but a few days remaining before the opening game, there is considerable player juggling going on in the Army grid camp. The Cadets will play three units this fall — the regulars going both ways, the Bandits on defense and the Go Team on offense.

Coach Dietzel moved Tom Schwartz, a sophomore from St. Paul, Minn., into Sherrell's tight end spot from the Bandits. As for the tailback job, where both Seymour and Smith figurde to run one and two in that position in early-season planning, there have to be some new faces. Right now, Mark Hamilton, another first-year player, and Frank Cosentino, who had been tabbed as the offensive quarterback for the Bandits, have been working with the first unit. A pair of speed merchants, senior Greg Steele and sophomore Jim Siket, are also getting a lot of attention.

Bills Reach Player Limit With Late Deal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills traded veteran pass receiver Bill Miller and released five other players to reach the American Football League's 34-man limit.

The Bills dealt Miller to the Oakland Raiders Tuesday for a future draft choice.

The club asked waivers on veterans Charley Ferguson, split end; Leroy Jackson, halfback; Herb Paterra, linebacker; and Gene Sykes, defensive back. The Bills also released rookie running back Bob Curington of North Carolina College.

Kingston Kiwanians to Hold Parade Before KHS Opener

Members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club will promote a grammar school boys parade to inaugurate the local high school football season.

Louis H. Schafer, chairman of the Kiwanis Youth Committeee, said the parade will take place the night of the Albany High-Kingston football game and will be led by the Kingston High School band.

The parade will begin at 6:30 from the high school field house parking lot. Line of march will be up Broadway to Clinton Avenue, Main Street to Washington Avenue and then to Dietz Stadium. It is hoped that between 300 and 500 boys participate in the parade.

Those desiring to march may do so by purchasing a Kiwanis Boys ticket at the YMCA any afternoon or evening between Monday, Sept. 21 and Thursday, Sept. 24. In addition to purchasing a ticket, boys will be given a large National Kiwanis Kids Day Pin. This will enable them to march in the parade and to gain admission to the game.

Members of the local Kiwanis Club will serve refreshments at half time and drawings will be held for various prizes. Boys in the parade will be asked to make signs and those with the best signs will be awarded trophies.

Turning Point for Deep South

School Desegregation Spreads Quietly Into Some Smaller Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public school desegregation spread quietly into some of the smaller cities of the Deep South this week in what one civil rights leader called a turning point for the area.

Another Test Today

Union Springs, Ala., a rural-oriented town southeast of Montgomery, faced the test today, when Negroes begin their studies with white classmates.

The community was expected to take the court-ordered integration in stride just as did Montgomery and Gadsden, Ala., Prince Edward County, Va., and Albany, Ga.

Nine more Negroes planned to join 21 others in desegregated schools in Albany, a south Georgia city where hundreds of Negroes were jailed for street demonstrations in 1961-63.

Columbus, Ga., also began desegregation Tuesday, admitting two Negroes to a white school under court order. Every major Georgia city now has begun desegregation.

The pattern of nonviolence was described as "the turning point for the Deep South" by Constance Baker Motley of New York, the NAACP legal defense fund attorney who fought dozens of courtrooom battles over desegregation.

"I don't recall any similar year of widespread peaceful compliance since the 1954 Supreme Court decision," she said in New York.

At Montgomery, eight Negroes entered two white high schools and an elementary school. Four white men picketed Robert E. Lee High for a time but there were no incidents.

Gadsden Quiet

In Gadsden, a tense scene of demonstrations last year, three schools accepted 15 Negroes without incident. Only a few spectators were on hand and School Supt. I. J. Browder said the citizens "want to abide by the law."

Prince Edward County, Va., reopened its public schools but only seven white children were among the 1,400 Negroes. The schools were shut five years ago to avoid integration.

The remainder of the county's white school-age children, 1,200 of them, remained in the private segregated system set up after the public schools were closed in mid-1959.

At Houston, Tex., 1,005 Negro pupils enrolled in 18 desegregated elementary schools.

At Canton, Miss., 13 Negro pupils were turned away when they attempted to enter the white Canton Junior-Senior High School. The city schools are not under any federal court order to desegregate.

President Pits Hubert Against Barry on Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,0000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agriculiural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

He got an invitation Tuesday from Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gained national attention on the other side of the Civil rights fence in the Little Rock controversy, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17 and 18.

Spring Lake FC Notes Danger of Wooded Section

Children playing with matches in the wooded area off Lucas Avenue has presented a serious problem for members of the Spring Lake fire company. This area, bounded by Sherry Lane, Hillside Terrace, Lucas Avenue and Flower Hill, is wooded with pines, hemlocks and other highly inflammable trees with a deep cushion of pine needles. The area is surrounded by homes and Fire Chief Clayton S. Elmendorf urged all parents of the area to warn children to keep from the area.

Chief Elmendorf reports he has received numerous complaints of small children playing with matches in the wooded area. He strongly urges parents to keep children from the area during the present drought condition and avert a serious fire which could well communicate to residences in the area.

Firemen have been called to the area on several occasions.

Estimate $70,000 Damage in Blaze At Poughkeepsie

Damage estimated unofficially at about $70,000 was caused by fire early Tuesday afternoon to Becker's Sales and Service sales and storehouse on Violet Avenue, Town of Poughkeepsie.

A relief driver for Fairview Fire Department, Robert Bowe, was treated at St. Francis' Hospital for burns caused when hot tar melted and fell on him as he assisted at the fire scene.

The fire was reported at 12:30 p. m., and firemen returned to their stations at about 3:40 p. m. Three pieces of apparatus from the City of Poughkeepsie, and fire trucks from Roosevelt Fire Company, assisted Fairview firemen.

A spokesman for the Fairview Company stated that there was no hydrant in the immediate area and hoselines were laid several hundred feet. Firemen saved a residence about 15 feet from the burning building, and also checked the fire before the flames entered the rear two-story section of the structure used for storing trailer equipment and over-stuffed furniture.

The flower shop was operated by Mrs. Marie Price and Mrs. Irene Motrie and had been in business in the city for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Demski said the shop would continue under the same name and there were plans for change in policy.

Search Continued For Kingstonian Who Fled Court

Area authoritie today continued search for James Joseph Ross, 27, of 41 Livingston Street, Kingston, who fled from Poughkeepsie City Court last Thursday while awaiting arraignment on forgery charges. Ross also is wanted by Ulster County on similar charges.

Ross was handcuffed to another defendant as he was taken before City Judge Milton Haven by City Marshal Soloway, a court officer. As the handcuffs were removed, Ross bolted and dashed downstairs into Washington Street.

The Kingston man has not been seen since and teletype alarms were sent out.

Ross was due to appear Friday before County Judge Raymond J. Mino on two indictments charging forgery. The court was informed that Ross was a fugitive from justice in Poughkeepsie, and bail was revoked here and a bench warrant was issued.

Rochester GOP Holds Meeting, Rally Planned

The September meeting of the Town of Rochester Republican Club was held Tuesday evening at the Accord firehouse. This was the first meting of the fall season and the Club will hold regular meetings on the first Tuesday of each month.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Ulster County Treasurer Fred H. DuBois, who gave a very interesting talk on the progress of the construction of the Ulster County office building and also work of the Ulster County treasurer's office in relation to the collection of taxes.

Mrs. Ann Morgan, president of the Club, presided at the meeting. The membership voted to hold a Republican rally on Thursday, Oct. 29, at the Peg Leg Bates Country Club. Music will be by Charles Cross and his band and several county candidates and officials will attend.

Supervisor Franklin Kelder gave a brief report on the town board activities at the conclusion of the regular business meeting.

The state flag of Alaska, showing the seven stars of the Big Dipper and the North Star against a field of midnight blue, was designed by a 13-year-old orphan boy. The former territory officially adopted the flag in 1927.

Miller Disputed On Charges of No-Castro Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders disputed today a statement by William E. Miller that the administration "has sworn in an agreement with the Soviet Union, that it will never take action against Castro."

Miller, Republican vice-presidential candidate made the statement in a Labor Day speech in South Bend, Ind., Monday.

After the weekly breakfast of the Democratic leaders with President Johnson, a newsman called Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's attention to Miller's statement and asked the Democratic vice-presidential candidate to comment.

"Mr. Miller speaks for himself," Humphrey said. "He obviously doen't know much about what the U. S. has been doing."

The Democratic Senate leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, said, "I am sure he is not aware of the facts."

"It is inconsistent with the truth, to say the least," said House Speaker John W. McCormack.

McCormack said he told Johnson that the House leadership will do everything possible to get a vote on medical care for the aged under Social Security.

He said this would be done either through a direct vote on the issue or by including it in some other legislation.

McCormack said he could not forecast the length of the present session of Congress but was hopeful the House would get down to the remaining business next week.

Two men with guns robbed the bank in Ridgefield in northwestern Connecticut Tuesday.

Police here said they had no knowledge of the whereabouts of the second robber
